REBEL BATTLESHIP IS SUNK

Convicts Slain In Attempt To Escape Prison

Three Are Dead And Fourth Critically Wounded At West Virginia Prison

OTHER PRISONERS ARE NOT INVOLVED

Guards Open Fire With Machine Guns As Prisoners Break For Liberty

(International News Service)

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., April 30.—Only the three prisoners slain in the daring jail break attempt at West Virginia penitentiary, and a fourth who was wounded critically by guards were involved in the scheme to escape, Capt. C. M. Stone, deputy warden, said today.

As a result, Stone said, no action will be taken against other prisoners as retaliation for the break.

"The warden told me he was pleased with the action of the guards," Stone said. Warden C. F. McClintick was not at the prison when the four convicts made their desperate break by seizing a prison truck and crashing through an inside wagon gate after knifing a foreman.

Machine Guns Halt Flight

Just as they reached the inside gate a blast of machine gun bullets fired by guards stopped them. Paul Richards, 20, and Clifford Seward, 20 were killed instantly. Harry Battle 38, Negro died later in the prison hospital.

Roy Altizer, 22, the fourth convict was critically wounded. The foreman, who was in charge of constructing a new wall around the prison, was H. A. Strealey. He was knifed in the hand. Stone said his condition was not serious.

Probe Attempt

A coroner's inquest into the killing of the convicts will be held at the prison today, Stone said. Meanwhile, an investigation was under way to determine how two of the men obtained knives which they used to attack Strealey.

Thirty guards were posted at various points around the prison yard and on the walls when the quartet made their wild dash for the walls, using the truck as a battering ram. Eighteen hundred convicts also were in the yard at the time, Stone said. None made an attempt to join the escaping convicts.

Asked how many guards opened fire on the fleeing men, Stone answered "all of them, maybe, that's what they're there for."

Reports emanating from the prison shortly after the shootings said the fourth convict had died, but this was later denied.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Saturday marks the start of the next motor vehicle inspection period. Saturday, July 31, marks the close of the period.

That the tourist season is well on its way was shown yesterday, when Pa Newc observed two auto license plates from distance points. One was from Montana and the other from New Mexico. Singularly, both were the same color, black and green.

Stay off the grass on the public square Saturday is the appeal of the city forester. Every time there is a large crowd downtown it seems to be the aim of many to tramp over the grass on the square. Have a heart!

'Course everybody isn't lucky, but then it's an incentive to clean up yards this time of year, to know that a woman in New York yesterday found a cashe of gold, silver and bills, while digging out an old stump. There were 28 half dollars, two $20 bills and others sent to Washington for inspection.

Foes Openly Predict Court Plan Defeat

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Leaders of the opposition to President Roosevelt's supreme court plan today openly predicted its defeat in the senate while the senate judiciary committee postponed further consideration of it until Monday.

The opposition forecasts of victory were provoked by a statement from Senator Ashurst (D) of Arizona, committee chairman, that an "opposition poll" showed 50 votes in the senate for the president's plan. This the opposition leaders denied.

Predicts Landslide.

Senator Van Nuys (D) of Indiana, an opposition leader, said:

"We will defeat the proposal for six new justices in the committee and on the floor of the senate. There is no question now about the outcome.

"It's a dead cinch to defeat it in the committee and our confidential poll shows we will defeat it in the senate by a substantial majority. There are signs now that by the time we vote, there will be a landslide against it."

Senator Clark (D) of Missouri, another foe of the president's plan, shared the same belief. He said:

"Events of the last few days make it very certain the opposition has a safe working majority in the senate to defeat the six-judge plan."

Insists President Will Win.

Senator Ashurst meanwhile insisted the president would win. He

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 30 Delayed on his fishing trip by engine trouble aboard the destroyer Moffett, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt today rested almost at the gates of his fishing grounds—the Gulf of Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 30.—Somewhere out on the sultry expanse of the Gulf of Mexico President Roosevelt was looking for fishing grounds today, temporarily abandoning all but the most pressing of official duties.

One job was in store for him and it looked like a race against time. There is a May 1 midnight deadline on signing of the new neutrality law, which congress finally put into official shape Thursday, if the present temporary act is to continue.

Bill Air-Mailed.

Word from Washington was that the bill was being air-mailed south in an effor to obtain the presidential signature before Sunday. This is the act which outlaws sale of munitions to warring nations and

Denhardt Tells Facts That Led Up To Shooting

General Denhardt Again Denies That He Killed Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor

SUICIDE PACT WAS SUGGESTED

(International News Service)

NEW CASTLE, Ky., April 30.—Having heard Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt's own denial that he shot and killed his vivacious brunette sweetheart, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor, the jury which will decide the former lieutenant governor's fate today waited to hear the scientific testimony of witnesses for the defense.

The murder trial of the bald, pompous military and political leader reached a high point when Gen. Denhardt took the witness stand late yesterday and told for the first time what happened on the lonely country road the night of last Nov. 6 when Mrs. Taylor was shot to death.

Suggested Suicide Pact

In a courtroom that was deadly silent although packed to the windows with a tense crowd, the general testified that "I did not want to die when she suggested that we both die togther." Mrs. Taylor, he said, was suffering from a depressed mental condition.

His socially prominent fiancee threatened suicide, the defendant testified, after she told him of the jealousy displayed by Chester Woolfolk, truck driver for the laundry she owned, after she and the general became engaged.

Woolfolk was infatuated with Mrs. Taylor, he told the impassive jury of farmers and business men, and she worried over this because "he (Woolfolk), had said he was not going to permit our marriage."

Didn't Realize

"She said she had always been kind to him and felt sorry for him, but she didn't realize until two week before that he was so deeply in love with her," the general con-

The whole east bank of the river flowing through Guernica has been occupied from the town to the sea, the insurgents asserted.

Several battalions of Basques staged a stiff last ditch defense of Guernica, but were beaten back with heavy losses. A large amount of war material also was captured by the nationalists.

Man Found Dead In Smoke-Filled Home By Friend

William J. Parr, Of Electric Street, Is Asphyxiated Last Evening

BODY FOUND BY JAMES W. PERRY

William J. Parr, aged 78, of 528 Electric street, who lived alone, was found dead about 7 o'clock last evening by James W. Perry, of 822 Oak street, an old friend and former neighbor. The circumstances were most peculiar. Parr had been asphyxiated by smoke from the burning mattress of a bed in an adjoining room, believed to have been set afire from sparks from Parr's pipe. He was seated in a chair in the kitchen, when discovered by Perry.

Parr had undergone treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital only a few days ago, having been taken to the hospital by police, after he had suffered a fainting spell on the street. He had not been in the best of health, it was stated.

It is believed that he had gone into the bedroom adjoining the kitchen and that while there, had accidentally set the bed afire. He had then gone back into the kitchen and sat down in the chair.

Perry, who was at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. P. McFarland, Jr., of 529 Electric street, just across the street from Parr's home in-

Asks Citizens To Assist With Legion Program

National Commander Harry W. Colmery Outlines Principles Of Threefold Objective

ANNUAL BANQUET DRAWS THOUSAND

Dinner, Speaking Program, And Dance Takes Place In Cathedral Last Evening

National American Legion Commander Harry W. Colmery of Topeka, Kas., speaking before members of the American Legion and their friends from the western Pennsylvania district at the annual commander's banquet in the Cathedral here last evening, urged citizens to cooperate with the American Legion in a program, American in its ideals.

Freedom has been shackled in the European countries by the very men who went out and fought for it the hardest, the veterans who returned from the World war, he stated. A far different picture exists in the United States, however, he pointed out. The men who wore the uniform of this country, as well as those of that other great English speaking nation, Great Britain, are standing up to preserve peace and promote progress.

The service men in other nations, returning from the war, set out to overthrow their existing form of government and succeeded in throwing their nations into chaos.

Three-fold Program.

Here in the United States, the veterans have been an increasing power for good, principally through their great organization, the American Legion.

The three-fold program of the American Legion this year, carrying on principles which have been outlined in the past, he stated, are: Protection by the federal government for all widows and dependent children of deceased World war veterans; universal service, and adequate national defense.

The government of this country has offered its protection following every war in which our country participated, down to, but not including the World war. There is only one fair answer to that question, he asserted, and that is by giving the World war orphans and widows equal treatment with the widows and orphans of previous wars.

There is nothing involved or mysterious about the kind of Universal Service the Legion wants, he stated. The law the American Legion seeks is one which will provide that in time of war, the nation shall bring capital, industry, and manpower into its service on an equal basis, with special privilege and profit for none. This is a thoroughly American proposition.

Body Of Man Is Found In River Near Hillsville

No Clues Found To Identity Of Victim—Body Is Badly Decomposed

State police and Coroner Orville Potter are seeking to establish the identity of the white man whose badly decomposed body was found in the Mahoning river just this side of the Ohio line, late this morning. The body is believed to have been in the water for several months.

The discovery was made by Tony Kanos and a companion, of the Lowellville district, about a half mile this side of the Lowellville power plant.

Constable Shingledecker of Mahoning township was notified and in turn summoned Coroner Orville Potter and Sgt. Knudsen of the state police.

The body was attired in brown trousers, with a bar pattern, a blue shirt, also with bar pattern, black oxfords and long underwear. The man was about five feet eight inches in height and would weigh around 150 pounds. He was believed to be around 50 years of age.

It is believed that the body was washed down to the spot where it was found from some point in the Youngstown district. During the high water last January it was reported that a man had jumped from one of the bridges in Youngstown, and it is possible that this is the man.

Flyer Is Killed; Companion Hurt

"Good Samaritan" Flight Cost Life Of One Flier; Other May Die

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 30.—Returning from a "good samaritan" flight, one aviator was killed and another injured critically when their jointly-owned plane crashed in a field at Amherst today.

C. Beverly Williams, 32, a furniture salesman, died of his injuries and Lawrence McClellan, 21, a Curtiss Aeroplane company employe, received a fractured skull.

The two were at the Consolidated Airplane company testing field when a plane owned by Cecil Davis, of Bradford, Pa., landed and inquired directions to Buffalo Municipal airport.

Williams and McClellan immediately took off and led Davis' plane to his destination. Upon their return, however, they encountered a hazy fog and were observed circling over Amherst fields apparently in search of a landing place.

Suddenly, witnesses said the plane's propeller broke into bits and the plane crashed. Both men seemed to be working the dual controls of the ship, according to Joseph Gangloff, a farmer who saw the crash.

McClellan is the son of the Rev. Clarence Stuart McClellan of Stamford, Conn.

Spanish Rebel Warship Sunk By Plane Bombs

Battleship Espana Goes Down Into Sea After Attack From Air

REPORT ENTIRE CREW RESCUED

Heaviest Naval Loss Of Spanish Civil War Is Reported In Encounter

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, April 30. — The London Evening-Star this evening published a report from Bilbao that nearly all of the 845 members of the crew of the Spanish rebel battleship Espana were lost when the ship was sunk by loyalist airplanes off Santander.

(Editor's Note: All other information from Bilbao had indicated all aboard the Espana were rescued by the rebel cruiser Velasco and life boats sent out from Bilbao and Santander.)

BILBAO, Spain, April 30.—Marking the heaviest naval loss of the Spanish civil war, the 15,452-ton insurgent battleship Espana, built as the Alfonso XIII and launched with pomp a year before the World war broke out, was sent to the bottom by Loyalist aircraft five miles off Santander today.

The Espana's normal complement was 735 officers and men but this number was believed to have been increased recently owing to the battleship's ceaseless activity in harassing enemy craft and attacking Loyalist ports.

The Espana was sunk, according to a Loyalist communique issued here, in retaliation for her attempts to hinder entrance of the British food ship Brora into Bilbao harbor.

Loyalist Planes Rush To Rescue

Aided by the Destroyer Velasco, the Espana fired repeatedly at the Brora. A fleet of Loyalist airplanes was rushed to the scene from Bilbao.

Rush Neutrality Bill To President

"Peace Act Of 1937" Is Sent To Roosevelt By Fast Plane

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Racing against time, White House attaches today rushed the "peace act of 1937" to President Roosevelt by airplane in order to establish a permanent neutrality law.

The new law, which will replace the temporary act that expires at midnight tomorrow, was whipped through the House and Senate yesterday so it might be placed in an army airplane today and rushed to the president for his signature. He is on a vacation cruise in the Gulf of Mexico.

The new program, a compromise between mandatory and discretionary neutrality blocs in the Senate and House, was passed almost without opposition in the House but met a flurry of criticism in the Senate.

TO HALT CIVILIAN SLAUGHTER

Britain Hopes To Halt Action

Secretary Eden Reveals Plan To House Of Commons Members

SEEK TRUCE TO SAVE CIVILIANS

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 30—The British government is contemplating action to prevent slaughter of civilians in Spain's civil war, foreign secretary Anthony Eden revealed in the House of Commons today.

"Britain is anxiously considering what action can be taken to prevent recurrence of deplorable events like the bombing of Guernica," Eden said, "and recognizes the desirability of cooperating with other governments and has the question of appropriate methods of ensuring such cooperation under urgent examination."

Eden's Statement

Eden made his statement in reply to a question whether Britain would summon immediately a meeting of the non-intervention powers to prevent rebel Gen. Emilio Mola of Spain carrying out his reported threat to raze Bilbao.

Eden revealed the government already has ordered its ambassador to Spain to inquire regarding truth of the reported threat, and added:

"Britain is deeply conscious of the seriousness of the situation and is fully alive to the urgency of the matter involved, but must have time to decide upon the method of approach."

It was understood Britain and France are seeking assurances from rebel Generalissimo that he will not destroy Bilbao, and are planning to warn him aerial destruction of the city would be deplorable and and likely to result in grave political damage to his cause.

Meanmile, British diplomatically is seeking to induce Franco to agree to a truce with the Basques to enable evacuation of women and children from Bilbao.

said he had "other information" in support of his statement that "an opposition poll" showed there were 50 votes in the senate for the president's plan. This would be enough to enact it if a vote were taken..

Senator Robinson (D) of Arkansas, majority leader, also declared there had been no change in the situation since he predicted easy approval of the presidential plan. Asked whether the prospect of an unfavorable report from the committee would affect chances for passing it in the senate, Robinson replied:

"There has been no change in the court situation."

The committee will consider the bill two more weeks, with a final vote on all amendments and on the bill itself arranged for May 18.

It appeared the proposal of Senator Norris, Nebraska independent, to outlaw majority decisions by the supreme court on constitutional questions would be defeated in committee. Chairman Ashurst announced he would oppose it, charging it would "invade the judicial power of the supreme court." Since the opponents of the president's plan also oppose the Norris amendment, it appeared doomed.

Rodes K. Myers, defense attorney, questioned Denhardt yesterday on direct testimony.

Denies Firing Shot

"General Denhart, did you fire the shot that killed Mrs. Taylor?" Myers demanded.

"I did not," the defendant replied.

"Did you kill her any place on that road and then put her body in that ditch?"

"I did not."

"Did you have any struggle with her? Did you inflict that bruise on the inside of her right thigh? Did you ever lay hands on her except in a friendly way?"

SPANISH REBEL WARSHIP SUNK BY PLANE BOMBS

opened fire on the two insurgent ships immediately, scoring a direct hit with a huge bomb on the Espana's poopdeck.

The missile apparently penetrated clear through the Espana's hull, for the huge cruiser began to list immediately and the crew took to the boats. The Velasco circled and picked up some members of the crew, steaming off to the west when lifeboats sent out from Bilbao approached.

Many Bombs Dropped

The attacking planes dropped bomb after bomb on the Espana with remarkable accuracy, continuing the onslaught for half an hour.

The cruiser's stern eventually became submerged and as her holds filled, her prow lifted clear of the water. For some moments she stood poised on end, observers reported, before sinking to the bottom.

Panic aboard the cruiser hampered the lowering of her boats but fast action by the Velasco and other rescue boats was believed to have prevented loss of life.

News of the sinking spread like wildfire through the Basque Provinces, causing universal rejoicing. Only yesterday, the Espana was cruising the Bay of Biscay broadcasting a rebel pronunciamento declaring any foreign vessels penetrating the three-mile limit off Bilbao would be attacked immediately.

Watch Boat Sink

The Mayor of Bilbao and other municipal officials took up posts in the watch-tower of the port. Through telescopes and field glasses, they watch the Espana sink slowly beneath the waves. She disappeared from sight at 9:30 a. m., one hour and a half following the bombing.

The Espana was 459 feet long, with a beam of 78 feet and a draught of 26½ feet. Equipped with eight 12-inch guns, twenty 4-inch guns, torpedo tubes and numerous smaller armaments she was the largest ship in the Spanish navy save for the Jaime I., built a year later with an added displacement of less than 300 tons.

The Espana was one of the first vessels seized by Generalissimo Francisco Franco's insurgents at outbreak of the civil war.

quired about Parr from his daughter, and was told by her that he had not been around that day. He decided to go and visit him, and was horrified to find the house filled with smoke when he opened the front door. The smoke was so thick, that he was unable to see into the house, and he went around to the back and opened the kitchen door. When the smoke had cleared away some, he noticed Parr sitting in the chair. He went back to his daughter's home and called the fire department.

While firemen extinguished the blaze, Assistant Chief E. E. Dart, Firemen Slovonsky and Norman McFarland, and Fire Policeman Albert Shook took Parr to the New Castle hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

Coroned Orville Potter was summoned, and after investigating the circumstances, stated that death had evidently resulted from asphyxiation from the heavy smoke arising from the burning mattress.

Mr. Parr's wife died on March 4 this year and his only known surviving relative is a sister in Beaver Falls. Efforts are being made to contact her.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Ritchie funeral home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and inment will be made in Savannah cemetery.

THE FLOW TO WASHINGTON

THAT the American constitutional system of government is constantly changing seems to be a pretty generally accepted fact in these days of the New Deal.

Just where we are going is a debatable question. Some economists have charged us with veering toward communism, as they say, state ownership of property will result when private property is no longer able to pay the taxes imposed by the government.

Others have made light of this idea and have said that we are just emerging into a new glorified form of American democracy—a form, however, which even they have been unable to specifically define.

There has been a growing number of prophets, of late, who have predicted that what really confronts the United States is a modified or American form of fascism. This alleged danger of a rise of a new form of fascism in our country is seen by Dr. Payson Smith, former Massachusetts Commissioner of Education, who is at present lecturer on educational administration at the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

The term fascism, according to Dr. Smith, can be defined by a tendency toward a growing centralization of power. The struggle is now between the authority of one man in a dictatorship or the rule of the many in a democracy, with the dictatorship gaining favor in some quarters because it is quicker and more efficient.

The tendency of the American people to accept centralization of authority is indicated, he states, in the growth and approval of federal machinery for unemployment aid, and in the welcoming by the states and local communities of the assumption by Washington of the burden of relief. On the other hand, he adds, the federal agents have encouraged experts to work with them and it is only natural that the smaller units of government have turned toward and accepted the centralization of power.

No matter what we may believe as to whether the present tendency toward the centralization of authority and activity in Washington means a step toward fascism, it is certain that we are departing from the old days. The local communities in many instances are not only looking to Washington for relief but are demanding it. The problem calls for serious study.

GENERAL PERSHING ON PARADE

Fewer persons will wonder whether it would be worth while to make a six-thousand-mile round trip to witness the coronation procession after they have read the details of General Pershing's self-designed uniform for the occasion.

It is a far cry from the simple homespun of Benjamin Franklin, which attracted so much attention at the court of France, to a knee-length, high-collared coat of blue with gold-embroidered oak leaves on cuffs and lapels, four gold stars on each sleeve and gold epaulets on the shoulders. Down the front are twelve gold buttons on each side. Even the full-length trousers have two gold stripes on each leg.

If some spectators gain the impression that General Pershing is commander of Fort Knox, it will not be his fault. It is the Administration's wish that among so many glittering uniforms of foreign soldiers and diplomats our Army be adequately and colorfully represented, particularly since our civilian delegates will be attired in plain black evening coats and silken knee breeches.

According to the War Department, there is nothing revolutionary about General Pershing's coronation ensemble. It is technically known as a "General Grant full dress uniform." If it is difficult to picture Grant in such an impressive get-up—for it is well known that in the heat of battle he wore only his simple Union suit—all will agree that General Pershing, with his stalwart, martial bearing, is just the man to "get away with it" and uphold the dignity of his Nation.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

PENALTY CRIMINALS FEAR

Action of the House in defeating the proposed bill to abolish capital punishment maintains the penalty of death in Pennsylvania. That, rather than a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, urged by the foes of capital punishment, is a needed item in our criminal code if crime is to be fought as it should be, many citizens believe.

Retaining the electric chair keeps before the minds of criminals and potential criminals the ever-present threat of the one penalty that all fear. The prospect of prison terms, with the comforts and conveniences now accepted by convicts as commonplace, and with a parole system that gives premature freedom to lawbreakers, fails to stay the nervous trigger-fingers of would-be murderers.

Scientist estimates that in two billion years the present atmosphere will have disappeared from the earth. Then we may be able to get a breath or two of fresh air.

NEW YORK—Professor Paul Nystrom of Columbia University predicts the American male will return to the full-face beard:

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CONSIDER YOUTH PROBLEMS

"OUR AMERICAN Youth: Their Plight and Program," is the title of an article in the April number of the Journal of the National Education association, by Harl R. Douglas. To quote:

"For every age up to thirty or thereabouts, there are approximately two and a half million individuals. There are roughly 20,000,000 young men and women between 16 and 24 years of age. As well as we may ascertain, they fall in the following groups: In school full time, 4,000,000; married women (theoretically not seeking employment), 2,700,000; employed, 8,000,000; CCC camps, 350,000; in jail,, reform school or prison, 250,000; unemployed 4,700,000 . . . More than 250,000 are bumming up and down the motor and rail highways . . .

"Crime statistics of recent years reveal that, though young people of between 15 and 25 constitute but a fifth of the population, they commit half the crimes above the grade of misdemeanors."

Considering some of the possibilities of helping youth, Mr. Douglas pleads for more playgrounds and amusement centers with competent leaders. "Let us, by every means in school, home and elsewhere, encourage youth to provide their own amusement, to develop some initiative and originality and to check the tendency for young people to sit helplessly while their amusement is brought to them. On this score the school has been largely a failure and the home of today little better . . . The facilities of the schools must be made available evenings and throughout the summer."

Compulsory School Attendance

He observes that if school attendance were compulsory to the age of 18 or completion of high school, we would have about two and a half million more youths now in school. He recommends concomitant work and school experience between the ages of 16 and 20, devoting approximately equal amounts of time to each. "This might have many forms—half day at work, half day at school; this week in school, next week at work; as is already in operation in a score or more cities; or in rural areas, five months in school, seven months at work."

In step with most writers, Mr. Douglas believes that most juvenile crime is economic in its cause. To quote, "Analysis reveals that the vast majority of these crimes suggest a motive arising from an inability to earn a livelihood and the means of social participation—auto thefts, holdups, stickups, robberies, purse snatching. Almost daily in every large city boys before a judge sob out or blurt forth, 'I needed a few bucks for a date, so I thought —.'"

He fails to note, however, that there is probably a still much stronger urge to such crimes than the economic one. Don't many youths have false standards of possessions? What has been done to teach them at home and school self-denials and consideration for the rights of others?

All Of Us

ONLY ONE LIFE TO LIVE?

Did I hear you say you had one life to live?

My friend, what ever gave you that idea?

You have many lives to live, so many I doubt you could count them all . . . You live them consecutively, one after another. You live them concurrently, all at the same time. . . . And life would be dull indeed if you did have but one life to live.

I know what you meant. I'm not so dull as not to understand that. You meant that the child that is born will die some day, that the You that people see seems to be just one human being and that this You was once a baby and then a child and then a youth and finally a mature human being and will finally grow older and will cease to be a visible part of earth's activity.

That's true, and obvious enough. . . . But in that You are many human beings, many lives. And it's not as simple as it seems.

There are so many of You. Tender. Callous. Hopeful. Despairing. Unselfish. Frank. Hypocritical. Greedy. Straightforward. Devious. Cheerful. Glum. Torn by doubt. Peaceful. Humble. Arrogant. Devout. Thoughtless. Serious . . . And there are moments when each You dominates our life.

Sometimes this worries us, even shocks us. We ask ourselves: "Which of these lives is my own, which is my natural self? Am I one human being or am I just a crowd of unrelated people, tied into one body, pulling in all directions?"

Thus we live many lives, have many lives to live. And the fact that we do should be no reproach to us. It should delight us, enrich our natures, give permanent interest to the adventure of being alive.

Yes, my friend, you have one life to live . . . and you have a hundred lives to live. You think you know yourself, but you might live to be a hundred and never have more than a bowing acquaintance with some part of the You that is buried in your heart . . . Live that one life richly and every element in you will come strongly alive.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Is it ever permissible to sit at the table with one's elbows thereon? The "best people" seem to do it around here.—HICK.

Answer—Elbows off the table is still the order of the day. Very often we see "proper" people with their elbows on the table in restaurants. This happens when two or four persons are having a tete-a-tete meal and it is necessary to lean forward the better to hear conversation above the music or the noise of others diners' conversation.

To lean forward in this manner without the support of the arms on the table gives the figure an awkward appearance. At a home dinner, elbows should not be placed on the table since leaning across is not necessary.

Needless to say, elbows should be out of sight when one is eating.

It is, indeed, amazing t. note the number who do not know that the left hand should be placed in the lap and not on the table, while food is conveyed to the mouth with the right hand.

The most vulgar pose I ever see eaters assume is the draping of one forearm across the table edge while the other is used as a food crane worked from the elbow, also planted on the table. There are two kinds of people—one does this and many others of equal vulgarity.

Rail Empire Deal Arouses.
Billions Are Tossed Around.
Senate Probe Is Promised.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

NEWEST TOSSING AROUND of the Van Sweringen "empire" has stirred up a hornets' nest, which probably will bring the end of railroad holding companies.

Thousands of Cleveland creditors, direct and indirect (through failures of bank in which the Van Sweringens owed money) are furious. They demand congressional action.

In the meantime they are trying to figure out who the "three unknown purchasers" are. They bought the "empire", or most of it, from George A. Ball, Muncie, Ind., fruit jar multi-millionaire, for approximately $6,375,000. Ball, who still retains control of part of the holdings, earned $4,000,000 in a few months for a family foundation he established for charity. (Charitable foundations do not have to pay taxes.)

Chief of the purchasers is Allan Kirby, the 44-year-old son of one of the richest men in America—Fred Morgan Kirby, 75, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The elder Kirby made his millions as an original partner of F. W. Woolworth, the five-and-ten man.

The other two purchasers, Robert R. Young and Frank F. Kolbe, are of the New York stock exchange firm of Young, Kolbe & Co. They began their careers with General Motors. Their firm acts as an agent for large investors. Both men are in their early forties. It is rumored that duPont money is in back of them. They say not.

Critics say that thousands of employes of the 200 corporations involved, 28,000 miles of railroad trackage, much real estate and valuable coal properties — the whole worth perhaps two billion dollars in normal times—pass into the domination of a few unknowns, who purchase control of a holding company for a comparatively nominal sum.

In the meantime, creditors are told to go hang.

WHEELER'S ATTITUDE

The attitude of Senator Burton K. Wheeler, chairman of the committee investigating railroad financing, is evidenced in these words:

"We shall have to have a hearing before the committee on that (the sale). We will go into all the details of it.

"That is a typical example of what can be done with holding companies. Billions of dollars worth of property can be tossed around for a few million dollars. It's absolutely wrong. We shouldn't have holding companies, controlling the destinies of millions."

LABOR VICTORY

Labor organizers assert the supreme court decision setting free Angelo Herndon from 18-20 years' Georgia sentence is a more sweeping victory than had been realized and permits greater freedom from interference in organizing.

They point out that Justice Roberts in the majority decision said: "The crucial question is not the formal interpretation of the statute by the supreme court of Georgia, but the application given it. The only objectives appellant is proved to have urged are those dealing with unemployment and emergency relief, which are void of criminality."

Hundreds of organizers have been arrested in various communities and states under various pretexts.

Liberals also are hailing the decision because of this statement, in the majority opinion:

"The statute, as construed and applied in the appellant's trial, does not furnish a sufficiently ascertainable standard of guilt.

"Every person who attacks existing conditions, who agitates for a change in the form of government, must take the risk that if a jury should be of opinion he ought to have foreseen that his utterances might contribute in any measure to some future forcible resistance to the existing government he may be convicted of the offense of inciting insurrection. The law, as thus construed, licenses the jury to create its own standard in each case."

MAKES ENEMIES?

The supreme court, however, lost thousands of supporters in Ohio on the same day it made its Herndon decision. For it overruled the Ohio supreme court and lower courts that the Ohio Bell Telephone company had to obey an order of the state public utilities commission to refund more than $13,000,000 to subscribers and to establish new rates in accordance with a commission valuation.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

TAKE GOOD AMERICAN CAR

Motorists going abroad frequently ask whether it is less expensive to rent an automobile overseas or to ship one's own for foreign travel. This question has been put to several of the great automobile associations in this country.

The answer, according to association studies, is that it is slightly less expensive to rent a low priced car for one month of touring in England, but if you plan to use a more expensive type of machine, or if the tour is for two months or longer it is considerably cheaper to ship.

For touring on the continent, your own car is generally less expensive In Germany, however, a late model economical type car can be rented for one month at less than the cost of shipping your car across.

Briefly the more extended the trip the more is saved by using your own car.

Car operating costs in Europe average three and one-half to four cents a mile. Including transportation, licenses, insurance, ferry service, and the like, the cost is about nine and one-half cents a mile.

Since there are, on the average, from three to four persons using each car shipped abroad, this brings the total car cost per person to less than three cents a mile, which is less than either the first or second class rail fare in European countries.

WORK AND PLAY

I don't like work. I'd rather play
And do the pleasant things all day.
I hate the clock that rings at seven!
I'd rather sleep until eleven;
But no one pays a living rate
To any one for sleeping late.

I don't like work. Sometimes I wish
That I could walk a stream and fish,
But when I mention that they say:
"We don't want fishermen today.
If fishing you prefer to go,
When we want trout, we'll let you know."

I don't like work. The whole day through
I'd rather push a billiard cue;
But when I say: "I'm good at pool,"
The superintendents all grow cool
And say: "Perhaps you'll think it queer,
But we've no billiard tables here."

I don't like work. I'd rather play
At golf on every sunny day.
But still no money can I make
Though ninety once a year I break.
Employers turn away and scoff
When I admit my choice is golf.

Many Pitfalls Await Visitors

Some Of Experiences Likely To Confront U. S. Visitors To Coronation

EXPECT 25,000 TO FLOCK TO LONDON

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1937.

LONDON, April 30—The question of avoiding faux pas probably will be one of the things uppermost in the minds of many of the 25,000 Americans treking to London for the coronation of King George VI in early May.

There are scores of pitfalls awaiting them.

The "tip as you go" system as used in the United States is not done in London. Watchword for Americans should be "tip when you go."

A horse-laugh will greet any American entering a London durg store and asking for a soft drink and a sandwich. London drug stores are open for the sale of medicines, pills, etc.

A slot machine in London town disgorge matches, cigarettes, and sometimes candy or handkerchiefs, but not food and drink.

At cheaper price restaurants Americans will miss the all-in service usually provided by American restaurant chains.

Must Pay For Extras

A napkin has to be asked for and paid for, as do rolls and butter. Water is free but has to be asked for by the patron.

Then there are the differences in the names of numerous eatables—"chips" for French fried potatoes, "cutlet" for chop.

Saloons are open only during stated hours. Americans will be intrigued by hennaed "barmaids," offended by the stench of stale beer emanating from the average London "pub."

English cocktails are different. The average English "old-fashioned" is more like a whisky sour.

Taxicab fare per mile is for two persons only, with twelve cents additional for each extra passenger. Flat rates for any distance within the city limits are unknown on London's busses, street-cars, or subways.

Fares range at about a penny a mile.

Many Differences

The English system of having two classes on the subways and surface railroads—some of the surface lines have three classes—will intrigue American customers.

Train coaches are divided into compartments seating eight or ten people, with a side aisle on the main line trains.

The average American film shown in London is months old. Theatre and movie prices are about the same as in New York, but customers for cheaper priced seats form a line outside for several hours.

British song and dance shows do not quite come up to the standard set by similar shows in the major American cities; London-produced comedy or melodrama is perhaps a little slicker; English standard or stage dancing is below that of New York; chorines are not as snappy or as beautiful; stage songsters in most London shows have something to learn.

American acts are in great demand at the burlesques, night clubs, and cabarets, and American dance teams are popular.

Strip-tease is agitating the town, with an American girl putting over a severely censored version of her New York act at local burlesque houses.

GROVE CITY, April 30.—Dr. B. A. Montgomery, who has not missed a Rotary club meeting since the first session was held 15 years ago, and 14 local men, still members, who attended the first meeting, were singled out for attention when the club marked its 15th anniversary at this week's meeting. At that time District Governor John M. Pfeil, of Swissvale, paid his official visit.

Governor Pfeil expressed surprise and pleasure over the unusually large number of charter members still active after 15 years. C. F. Fithian presented a brief summary of the first meeting.

WORK OF SCHOOL SHOWN BY PROJECTS

Close to 500 persons made a complete tour of the Union Township high school building, Thursday evening, visiting all of the various rooms, and inspecting the displays of classroom work made into projects, in the first, of what undoubtedly will be an annual exhibition. The audience was composed mostly of parents who were curious to learn just what their child is learning at school.

Starting at 7:30 o'clock the parents toured the various rooms seeing displays on: art, administration, club activities, commercial work, domestic science, dramatics, English, foreign languages, grades, geography, history, mathematics, mechanical drawing, music, physical education and science. The teacher of each department aided by groups of students readily and completely answered all forthcoming questions from the interested mothers and fathers.

Eight of the township schools were represented including: Union High, Linden Grove, Scotland Lane, Harbor, Fairview, Washington, Sunny avenue, and White. Those in charge of these various school displays were Merrill C. Young, general chairman; Robert Duff, John Leonard, Ann Rice, Walter Burckhart, Lois Ketterer, Elma Robinson, Fern Cloak, Milton Pattison, Dave Boyd, Sarah Loudon, Joe Thompson, R. F. Conway, J. G. Rudolph, Ruth Horton, Helen Forsythe, Catherine Double, Elda Vance, Findley Wilson, J. Arthur Tureck, Clara Reib, Anna Barthman, Erna Surhe and Elizabeth Tanzey.

Lunch-Program Presented

At the close of the tour of the building, the girls of the domestic science department served a tasty bite to the parents. Following this light repast the group adjourned to the auditorium of the school and were entertained by a large number of students from girls' and boys' physical education classes.

The program opened with a display of marching tactics, presented by 40 eighth grade girls. They were accompanied at piano by Josephine Wallace and Helen Sagabiel. Following girls entertained the group with a 'jumping rope tap dance:' Norene Buchanan, Kathleen Smith, Cleo Dischel, Helen Williams and Ada Ketzel.

Stanley Ferrell, acting as announcer, conducted a drawing at which time a product of the art department, a drawing by Robert McKinney, was presented to Wilbur Denny.

Tumblers-Boxers Entertain

Coming from the boy's physical education department were a number of tumblers and boxers who presented a fast display of the art of these two sports. These entertainers included: Paul Allen, William Allen, Bob Atwell, Robert Bacon, Fred Bussey, Bill Bartly, Wayne Carpenter, John Daugherty, George Hockenberry, James Hughes, Harold Jackson, Dale Kegraise, James Long, John Taylor, Fred Teece.

May Pole Dance

A close was brought to a most successful program when a May Pole dance was held with the following taking part: Mary Spittle, Ruth Reynolds, Helen Cox, Grace Reynolds, Marion Allen, Kathryn Todd, Ruth Letzkus, Betty Glasser, Margaret Eve, Dorothy Barnsley, Lucille Janorski, Jerry Covert, Florence Peden, Dorothy Davies, Sadie Travers, Dorothy Robinson, Ann Gresziuk, Bobby Allen, Jean Green, Eloise Corban, Wanda Kahanski, Margaret Carbone and Bernice Butz.

Young Man Must Spend $200 Scrip Within One Month

(International News Service)

BERGENFIELD, N. J., April 30.—A townsend plan experiment was launched by the Bergenfield Townsend Club today with selection of Harry Fichter, 30, of Tenafly, N. J., as the first "pensioner."

Fichter will receive $200 in scrip tomorrow and then will proceed to spend it with local merchants within thirty days. During that time the scrip is expected to produce about $200 in two per cent transaction taxes.

Dog Saves Lives Of Two Children

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 30.—A dog was credited today with saving the lives of Marylin Johnson, 3, and Kenneth Garrison, 5, after the tots were mired up to their armpits in the mud of a Queens swamp.

Attracted by the dog's barking, James Adams, 26, pulled the exhausted youngsters out of the death trap.

AROUND CITY HALL

Presentation to council of three proposed ordinances indicates that city officials intend to comply with the request of the Pennsylvania Power Company concerning a 70 foot strip of ground on the Rosena site which the company will give to the city for street purposes for $1.00. One bill presented yesterday accepts the ground, and two others establish new building lines in South Jefferson and South Mill streets, at the points to be intersected by the new thoroughfare, which, by the way, must also be named. By establishing building lines the company can erect its buildings in conformity to their plans. According to reports, their service building and yards will be south of the proposed thoroughfare. Much of the land along the proposed thoroughfare will be improved by grass plots and trees. The company stipulated in making the offer to the city that none of the land given be used for commercial purposes.

Council met as a board of tax revision and exempted the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company of an assessment of $5,500 on a brick and office building, razed some time ago and also Iman Samuels of $20 assessment on a garage, also razed, some time ago. This will preclude the company and Mr. Iman from paying any tax on the buildings.

Council has instructed the city clerk to advertise for bids for the furnishing to the city of all grease and kerosene which the city may require between May 1, 1937, and April 1, 1938. Plans and specifications will be prepared by the city engineer and city mechanic.

Council has received from Seventh ward residents a petition asking that something be done to eliminate a water nuisance at the south end of Wayne street, Cedar street, Liberty street and Ashland avenue. It was reported in the petition that the water flows to and stops at those points because there is no outlet for it.

Forms have been set for the concrete curbs in Sumner avenue. The stone base may be laid within the next 10 days, according to the city engineer.

It develops now that when the truck bought recently by the city for the streets department "settled down" in the city's ash pile in Cedar street, the windshield was broke. This resulted in some of the city's employes being laid off as the truck was sent to the motor mechanic's shop for repairs.

Wind and sunshine has done much to aid North Mercer street, north of Sheridan, where ashes have been placed. The thoroughfare shows that it has been scraped improving it for auto travel.

Sharon council has asked the state department of health to grant it permission to run a temporary sanitary sewer into the Shenango river until next year. Sharon hopes to gain this time before it must build a new sewage treatment works to serve the northern section of the city.

Workmen are preparing Cascade Park for the summer season. The formal opening will be May 30.

Seven Hundred In Erie Go On Strike

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., April 30.—Seven hundred Lovell Manufacturing Company employes went on strike here today following the decision last night of Local 74 of United Rubber Workers of America to force a closed shop on the management.

Edward C. Doll, vice president and general manager of the company, representing the management at parleys, was adamant in his refusal of closed shop policy.

Since the settled lockout here early in March there has been dissension between the 530 union members and the non-union men. Non-unionists taunted the union men by saying they had to strike for 45 hour week, five per cent per hour raise and promise of five cents in June, while the non-unionists received the benefits and retained the confidence of the management.

LIBRARY MEETING HELD

Wednesday morning the library squad held a meeting in the school library under the supervision of the librarian, Helen Westlake. The period was spent in a very enjoyable and helpful manner.

The pupils were divided into several groups and a contest was held between these groups. This contest, while entertaining to the students, was also a great aid to them as it had to do with reference books. The period ended with a small treat to the library assistants from Miss Westlake.

City Forester Is Much Discouraged

Public Fails To Appreciate Efforts To Have Grass On Public Square He Says

Owen Fox, city forester, was in a rather discouraged state of mind today, owing to the disregard of some people for the appearance of the Public Square.

He said that he has been endeavoring to place the plots in as good condition as possible, but notwithstanding this, people disregard these efforts and walk across the grass plots.

Fox said that on a recent night between the hours of 7:30 p. m. and 10 p. m. he made a check of the persons who trampled across the plots on other than the sidewalks and counted 68.

He said he approached one man and notified him he was doing wrong and instantly received a barrage of abuse which was punctuated with profanity and the information from the man: "I'll do as I please"

Fox said that he does not intend to plant any more grass seed if the grass is to be trampled. Instead, he proposes to plant several flower beds.

Some time ago Councilman Joseph D. Alexander said that he would ask the WPA to approve a project whereby ornamental stone walls would be placed inside the present curbs to give the Public Square a more beautiful appearance.

A sufficient commentary on dictators is that no decent thing ever feels the need of censoring the Press.

Nature adjusts things; and if the lady isn't interested in men, her appearance keeps men from being interested in her.

Brazil's Civil War Is 'Flop'

No Support For Revolting General, And War Is Postponed For Time Being

(International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, April 30.—Failure to line up allies in the neighboring states of Sao Paulo and Bahia today crushed, for the time being, hopes of General J. A. Flores Da Cunha, governor of Rio Grande Do Sul, to start a civil war in Southern Brazil.

Emissaries Gen. Flores Da Cunha sent to the governors of Sao Paulo and Bahia could not gain promises of support, according to information filtering across the Rio Grande-Uruguay border.

Gen. Flores Da Cunha kept his state army of 15,000 on a civil war footing, however, and continued to hold control of the railways and telegraph lines in his state.

Troops Not Moved

President Vargas, in the belief that Gen. Da Cunha would keep to his promise not to go to war, refrained from dispatching a punitive expedition of federal troops.

Friction developed between the president and the governor, former close associates, when Gen. Da Cunha was removed as director of military law in Southern Brazil—a post which would have given him great power in the presidential elections scheduled for next January.

Abraham A Man Of Faith

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Hebrews 11:8—"By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 2 is Genesis 11:27-20:18, especially 12:1-9; 13:14-18, the Golden Text being Hebrews 11:8, "By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

TWO DIVINE plans to bless the world by working through the race as a whole have now failed, the first headed by Adam and the second by Noah. Utter degeneration attended both of these efforts.

God's next plan is to work through a "chosen people." He will choose a race by choosing its great progenitor, and through this man Abraham and his seed he will bring his blessing of salvation to all nations. This explains how and why Israel became the "chosen people." Their election in no sense implies the rejection of other races, any more than God's calling of the ministry implies the rejection of the laity. This chosen people was not to be the receptacle of divine grace, but only the channel through which that grace was to reach and bless all nations: "In thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

A Chosen Land

God picked his man Abram, afterwards to be called Abraham, from the sons of Terah at Ur of the Chaldees, near the Persian Gulf, doubtless because of his pure faith in the one true God. He called him out of an environment of polytheism to make of him an exponent and salesman of monotheism at the traffic center of the ancient world, "and he went out," not knowing whither he went." But God knew. He was taking this man whom he was not ashamed to call his friend, to establish him as a missionary, in the land that he would show him. Here he was to be a witness for the true God and spiritual worship to all nations as they swept by him, to and fro, with caravans of commerce or cohorts of conquest, bent upon the purspits of peace or war. "Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto the land that I will show thee: and I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and be thou a blessing." That was God's call to Abram, and his covenant with him and his descendants.

A Choice Soul

Abram's heroic response to this divine call to be the pioneer missionary of all ages made him one of the immortals of human history. "So Abram went, as Jehovah had spoken unto him." "By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed." He became the father of the faithful, a hero of faith, the first foreign missionary, pioneer of all westward journeying pioneers, with ears to hear and eyes to see, as God said, "All the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to they seed forever." His greatness is explained by the altars he reared and left in his trail, and by the tent which speaks of his willingness to move ever forward with Jehovah. "And he removed from thence . . . and pitched his tent . . . and there he builded an altar unto Jehovah, and called upon the name of Jehovah." The altar eloquently bespoke his upward look, and the tent as eloquently his onward look. Thus Abram journeyed with God. He built altars but no city, dwelling in a tent without foundation, "for he looked for the city which hath the foundations, whose builder and maker is God."

Stamp Notes

A stamp society in Milwaukee has made the suggestion that the Post Office Department issue a panel of each of the Army and Navy series to raise funds for flood relief purposes. The face value of the sheets would be 15 cents but they suggest that they be sold at $1, the difference being turned over to the Red Cross or a relief agency.

There is still no announcement from the Postmaster General in regard to the five cent Army-Navy stamps, nor any word about the government description of postage stamps. Both of these items are expected at any time by collectors.

A bill recently introduced by Senator Copeland, should have the hearty support of every user of the mails. His proposal was that a special postage rate be established for post cards sent by air-mail. At the present time, if cards are sent by airmail they must bear the letter-rate of six cents.

Arlington, Virginia will soon have a new post office building to take care of the ever increasing business of the district. On May 5, the cornerstone will be laid by Postmaster General James A. Farley, before the governor of Virginia and other high government officials.

Many bills have been introduced this term by congress in regard to stamp collectors and collecting. Many of these bills are lost in committees, and but few of them ever pass. Whether they pass or are rejected, their introduction only goes to indicate the prominent position that the hobby of philately plays in the lives of Americans.

Good Night Kiss Is O. K. For Coeds

(International News Service)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 30.—A good night kiss is all right for co-eds.

But no co-ed should permit her emotions to get beyond control, or engage in protracted necking.

This was the gist of statements by University of Michigan authorities today after a campus squabble between students over the practice of necking.

The tiff between students started when Sophomore Fred Thomson, Detroit, wrote in the Michigan Daily, student newspaper, that a Mosher-Jordan dormitory girl was fined for "holding a boy's head against her while she stroked his head in an affectionate manner."

This action was "sweet, loving, affectionate and attentive," wrote Thomson. These are all lovely virtues, he said.

Miss Isabelle Dudley, social director of the Jordan half of the dormitory, denied that the girl was fined. She said the girl was merely censured for making too great a show of her emotions.

Mrs. Simpson Is Gay And Happy

Reporters Again Lay Siege To Castle In France As Divorce Day Nears

FORMER KING IS EXPECTED SOON

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1937

MONTS, France, April 30—With the final divorce decree that will permit her to marry the Duke of Windsor almost "in the bag" Mrs. Wallis Simpson was gay and happy today.

I encountered her as she strolled through the grounds of the Chateau De Cande and chatted with her for a few minutes.

The beautiful American was in high spirits, enthusiastically commenting on the summer-like quality of the bright sunshine.

It was obvious from the preparations going on about the castle and in the village of Monts that the former British king is expected here next week.

"It looks like the siege is on again" commented Herman L. Rogers of New York, her fellow-guest at the ancient chateau, as he surveyed the cluster of American, English and French reporters outside the gates.

Mrs. Simpson was radiant in a mauve dress, dark blue shoes, and flesh-colored stockings.

Her eyelashes were tinted in blue.

After a few minutes she excused herself to go walking about the estate with Rogers and Snooky, the dog given to her by the duke.

"I'm going on one of those exciting walks you reporters have described,' she said laughingly.

Among her visitors today was a representative of the Salvation Army, Mlle. Georgette Radet of Paris. She drove to the chateau with two women from nears Tours to ask Mrs. Simpson for 50,000 francs (about $2,350) to open a local branch of the army. Its purpose would be to put reformatory boys on farms instead of in prison, following a recent scandal in the reformatory administration.

Hotel rates in Monte are skyrocketing as the press begins to gather for the arrival of the duke and their wedding later in the Spring.

M. Michenaud, the detective from the Surete Generale who has been with Mrs. Simpson since she left Cannes, was very much in evidence today, patrolling the front and back lawns of the chateau.

He said he is expecting additional plainclothes detectives next week to help guard the duke.

Bank Resources Show Increase

Approximately Ten Per Cent Gain Reported In State During Past Year

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—Total resources of the 1,080 commercial banks in Pennsylvania participating in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's guarantee plan increased 10.5 per cent in 1936, the FDIC announced today.

Resources of the insured Pennsylvania banks totaled $5,549,183,000 on December 31. This was a gain of 10.5 per cent over the resources of the same date a year earlier.

During the year total deposits in the banks increased by $510,599,000, or 12.3 per cent, standing at $4,656,177,000 at the end of the period. On December 31 demand deposits were $2,329,053,000 and time deposits were $1,723,595,000.

The gain of 10.5 per cent in resources reported for the Pennsylvani banks was slightly above the increase of 10.4 per cent in resources of insured banks in the country as a whole.

School, road and boro liens are ready for the signatures of the various solicitors of the county subdivisions according to County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland. All of the liens must be signed by the solicitors which means that county solicitor William McElwee, Jr., will be signing his name about 3,000 times. The liens go on for the 1931 taxes May 1.

In the office of Register and Recorder William R. Hanna the following estates have had letters administered.

Letters of administration have been issued to Edward M. Reilley, Jr., as executor in the estate of Mary A. Doyle, late of Ellwood City.

Letters of administration have been issued to Charles C. and Joseph Withers as executors in the estate of Thomas W. A. Withers late of Neshannock Township who died March 25, 1937.

There is a possibility that the county commissioners will ask the Federal government to aid in the erection of the bridge over the Slippery Rock to replace the Harris bridge which went down several days ago. Both County Commissioners George H. Bolinger and Floyd L. Cotton feel that this would be such a project as would come under the requirements of the PWA in which the government would give the county 45 percent.

Electric fans are not in general use as yet but there is one being used in the brick arch down in the basement of the court house. An historical survey is under way by the Works Progress Administration and the men on it are now searching the records in the basement. The arch is next to the furnace, has no windows or other ventilation save a door which leads only to the corridor and the spot is hot.

Gold Policy Is Heavily Scored By Vandenberg

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The federal budget will never be balanced so long as the administration continues its policy of purchasing $1,500,000,000 of gold annually, Senator Vandenberg (R) Michigan, charged in the senate during debate over a $1,500 bus for Fort Knox, the government's gold stronghold in Kentucky.

Vandenberg declared:

"The administration's gold policy contains a fantastic formula by which you dig gold out of a hole in South Africa and place it in a hole in Fort Knox. I don't know whether it is more dangerous to stop this gold policy than to continue it.

"I do know though that as long as we continue this sterilization policy at the rate of $1,500,000,000 a year, there will never be any adjustment of our budgetary problems."

SHAMOKIN

Do you know that Shamokin, in Northumberland county, is situated in the heart of a region that offers a great deal of interest to visitors?

It is claimed that in this area more dirt is excavated in a year than was taken from the Panama Canal. The wire rope used here could reproduce the Brooklyn Bridge. Some of the mines have as many as 80 miles of railroad track underground. The region uses more electric power than can be generated at Muscle Shoals. The yellow streams one sees are the drainage from the mines, 11 tons of this sulphur water being taken out of every ton of coal. At one mine it is possible to go down three times the depth of the Woolworth Tower, go through a tunnel longer than the Hudson Tunnels and watch a man at work higher than the Woolworth Tower.

One inch of rainfall is equivalent to one hundred tons of water to the acre

Quiet Tea Rooms Attract Ritzy

Homelike Atmosphere Appeals To Many In Bustle Of New York Life

BIG CITY HAS PRETTY STENOGS

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 30.—Thoughts while strolling: Nobody can give a derby that jaunty slant of the Duke of Windsor. And no one spreads a thin talent over a large area like Fred Astaire. Perfect masculine profile: Captain Eddie Rickenbacker. Gentle but forceful radio critic: Dinty Doyle.

Add tunes you can't stop humming: "Little Old Lady." Scripps-Howard executive "Deacs"—Aylesworth and Parker. Odd how Buff Cobb can be so strikingly good-looking and still look like Irvin. That becoming silver spray in Zaz Hitchcock's hair. Broadway's favorite lady: Mrs. Sime Silverman.

O. O. McIntyre

Rhyme: The stay outs' mad wight is now Jack White. A beautiful lady who is rarely seen: Mrs. George M. Cohan. Ben Ali Haggin is the country boy's idea of how he would like to look after he goes back home after many years in the city. And Mary Boland is the country girl's idea.

John L. Lewis could have starred in Eugene O'Neill's "The Hairy Ape" without a makeup. Those worldlings who go to the private barber shops of "No. 21" and The Stork Club to be tonsored in the late afternoon. Fred Knowles and Skeets Gallagher could pass for twins.

Easy faces for the caricaturist: Beatrice Lillie, W. C. Fields, King Alfonso and Fannie Brice. How quickly Rex Tugwell got off the first pages! Difficult to think of hard boiled Nick Kenney writing those lingering, sentimental tunes. Dreariest of theme songs: Amos n' Andy's.

Most people when they think of New York cafes think of the glittering, pink satined, soft carpeted havens with suave Oppenheim head waiters and other continental contraptions. But there are far more of the quiet chintzey tea room places where the serving girls and cashiers know the patrons by name and indulge friendly exchange of talk. For many these side street havens are as democratic as the boarding houses back home. The same people come night after night to sit at the same tables. The owners are generally widowed ladies who risk their small hoard in about the only venture that will give them contact and prevent the great metropolitan ache—loneliness. Among the rich who visit such tea rooms are Mrs. Helen Gould Finley, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Kay Brush and Geraldine Farrar.

Many beauty experts that the town's most beautiful and tastfully dressed girls are to be seen below Fulton in the Wall Street area. They pour out to the streets in enchanting hordes at the lunch hour and are indeed easy on the eye. Their occupational niche would be a strange sight to the New Yorker of 50 years ago. For then there were no female stenographers nor secretaries. Indeed the historian Alexander Black in a brochure on the Manhattan of other days says that a woman in Wall Street was looked upon with suspicion. To have a girl in a business office meant not only social but business disaster.

Literary folk say no success in that field has proved so much wormwood as it has to the talented Margaret Mitchell, the Atlanta lady, who authored "Gone With the Wind." Not only did the gruelling work on the big novel impair her eyesight, but the sudden descent of fame to a high strung person caused complete bewilderment and practically made her a recluse. Anything she would turn out now would be gobbled up by editors at the author's own price, but she steadfastly refuses not only to turn in more copy but to see publishers' agents. Many believe time and complete rest will restore her to authorship.

No block in Manhattan has the exquisite serenity of Gramercy Park. Morning, noon and night it is always there in studied calm. None of the bluster on all sides disturbs it. To the pedestrian who comes upon it suddenly it seems a glen of deep shadow and there is a sudden desire to tip-toe. Among other landmarks is Mayor Harper's old home, a red brick with balconies. And the vine clad Players with its portico, once the home of Edwin Booth. The high fenced park itself, available only for residents, is like a niche out of old London. Many of the residents are artists and writers. Now and then an old one-horse cab with a faded jarvey draws up to carry a bonneted little old lady for a circle of Central Park.

Kerwin Fulton, the outdoor advertising man, is one of New York's better dressed men. He is a stylist who has an ensemble for every occasion. The other morning with the sun in splendor he turned into the avenue wearing one of his carefully selected outfits. A friend, in passing, stopped him and observed: "When you die they ought to bury you in a Finchley window."

Important Message To All Wage Earners Of This City

PRICES on men's clothing are going up! Up! And UP! I just hate to think what they'll be by next fall! This is a serious situation when you consider the average wage earner. Because his dollars are counted and he's got to count on his weekly pay envelope to buy the necessities of life for his family and himself. Every man in America needs a new suit at one time or another. Mr. Wage Earner will gladly pay the price if he's got the money to pay for it. But when prices go out of line with his pay envelope...he hesitates to buy that new suit of clothes.

Yes, my friends, something should be done about it, and I'm taking a step forward in favor of the wage earner. Instead of increasing my prices, I'm going to decrease them! I'm cutting the price of every man's suit on my racks! I'm going to give you a discount of 10% on every man's garment now in my store, because I know that's the best way to help you along now, when prices on everything are skyrocketing. Yes, sir, I'm going to allow you 10% on every suit in my store, even though every one is worth from $3.00 to $5.00 more than it is marked right now. I have thousands of garments hanging in my New York headquarters which are exact duplicates of the suits in my store, and I will be compelled to charge more for them, because I had to pay more. So, you see, it is to your advantage to buy your suit NOW, because I will be unable to offer any such value in the future!

Unfortunately, there are some firms unscrupulous enough to mark up their prices and then allow a discount, thus deliberately misleading their customers! But I will give ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS REWARD to any one who can prove that I have marked up a single one of my garments before allowing the discount. Because it is my sincere desire to see that the wage earners of America get a fair and square deal.

I WILL GIVE A $1,000.00 REWARD TO ANYONE WHO CAN PROVE THAT I HAVE MARKED UP A SINGLE ONE OF MY GARMENTS BEFORE ALLOWING A DISCOUNT

Here's What You Save:

$22.50 SUITS 10% Off $20.25
$27.50 SUITS 10% Off $24.75
$32.50 SUITS 10% Off $29.25
$36.50 SUITS 10% Off $32.85

Of Course, the Usual Liberal Credit terms will Prevail in addition to this price reduction.

Boosting Taxes May Cut Returns

Law Of Diminishing Returns Works Out When Taxes Are Raised Too High

INCOME TAXES AFFECTED TOO

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Sometimes I wonder if the law of diminishing returns is understood as well as it ought to be, considering how simple the proposition is.

To taxation experts it's as plain as print, of course.

But for the benefit of others, who may never have paid much attention to it, a little consideration of the subject might be profitable.

HOW IT WORKS

Let us suppose the case of an import of tax on coffee, for example.

Some of our tariff imposts are imposed with the deliberate purpose of keeping foreign stuff out of the United States, that it may not compete with our domestic production.

Coffee, however, is a different thing. We produce none. No protective principle is involved. Foreign-grown coffee is taxed, upon its arrival here, purely for the sake of the money that the tax yields to the government. The government needs the money and that is one way of getting it; possibly a poor way, but it works—up to a certain point.

The government always wants more and more money; the coffee tax is bringing it in quite generously, so it is boosted. All right, there is an increase in collections. Then there are further boosts, to get more still.

RETURNS DIMINISH

But ultimately there comes a time when coffee, by reason of the tax, becomes too expensive for any except the quite well-to-do to continue drinking it.

Consequently imports of it fall off.

The tax is higher but it is paid on so much less coffee that the higher tax yields less than the lower one did.

This is the operation of the law of diminishing returns.

LOWER—MORE RETURN

I do not know that this is particularly true of coffee, but it is true of imports generally.

We have reached a stage where the tariff does not yield anything like the revenue that it would if it were lower. By being excessive it has counteracted itself.

We get less in tax collections where we expected to get more.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

This rule holds good as to a lot of taxes—income taxation, illustratively.

Heaven knows, I hold no brief for the "malefactor of great wealth". Nevertheless, when he gets up to a levy of about 80 per cent his inclination is to say, "Oh, well, I just won't make any more money; the government will take most of it away from me anyway."

And he goes on a sit-down strike, living on what he has got and not trying to make any more.

The law of diminishing returns in operation once more!

AS STEWART SEES IT

Now, as to big sources of revenue Uncle Sam has reached the limit of the law of diminishing returns.

The more it assesses against big money the less it will get.

It is compelled to increase its levy on us little folk.

Income tax? I have lived in Japan. There is a class there of "jinrickshaw coolies". These men are comparable to taxicab men, except that they do not operate taxicabs—they pull little phaetons and run, on foot, between the shafts. And they are subject to income tax.

As we pare down income tax exemptions we get toward that level—endeavoring to get away from the law of diminishing returns.

MAY "GET US"

Such a situation might be forestalled by cutting governmental expenditures.

It is not being done on Capitol Hill.

The administration advocates it, but does not tell how.

We ordinary folk, however, are up against the law of diminishing returns. It will get us if we don't look out.

Names Commission For Oil Industry Probe In State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 30.—After signing a creative measure, Gov. George H. Earle today appointed three members to the legislative commission entrusted with making "a thorough and impartial" investigation of the commonwealth's oil industry.

Two other appointments, one by the president pro tempore of the senate and one by the speaker of the house have yet to be made.

TELLS WHY WOMEN LOSE THEIR YOUTH

Beauty Specialist Lays Down Simple Rules To Retain Looks

"I'd like to tell a lot of the women who come in here why they are showing their age so much, and why creams and cosmetics fail to give them the looks of youth," said the owner of a beauty parlor, a lady who has a wide reputation as a specialist on the care of the complexion. "If they could see as I see how a few simple health rules would do more for them than ever I could do, some of them would profit much. Most of the women I know who are beginning to look their years or older fail to realize how important it is for them to keep clean inside. No number of perfumed baths will make a skin look young when the internal organs are not throwing off the wastes of the body.

"Take the kidneys, for example. Their work is to filter out of the blood the impurities that are formed in the body by every movement, and unless they do this the skin will be harsh and rough, the eyes dull or feverish, the movements slow and stiff, and no amount of beauty treatments can help much. The liver, too, has a like job. When it fails to work, the whole body becomes bilious, the blood is full of impurities, and the skin and eyes show it. Both of these evils can often be traced directly to neglect of the bowls. In a state of nature most animals have a movement of the bowels right after eating, often three times a day. It is so easy for a woman to neglect this most important thing, but she should be sure of at least two good movements a day if she wants to remain young.

"When a woman will observe these things, keep her kidneys flushed by drinking plenty of pure water, and watch her bowels and liver, she is guarded against most troubles and can withstand the strain to which she is subjected regularly and retain her good looks. I know I used to suffer horribly with indigestion and biliousness, and until I found a new medicine called World's Tonic, which I understand is brought from different parts of the world, I never did realize how easily I could keep myself in the pink of condition. Since I began taking that good medicine I am as regular in my habits as can be, my muscles are supple and strong, my skin is clear and clean, and I have no trouble from indigestion or sluggish liver. If I could make women see what this valuable medicine has done for me I might help them a great deal more by the treatments in the beauty shop, and I certainly would confer a boon upon all who took my advice." World Tonic can be had of Eckerd's, Paisley's or any other first class drug store. (B-103)

Unseen From Outside W.P.A. Rushes New City Library

Debris is piling higher around the old post office building at East North and North Mercer streets these days and that's about the only way the public can tell a busy WPA force of 23 workmen—there'll be more men later—is applying full speed to its job of converting the stone structure into an imposing Free Public library home.

The reconditioning project was started April 20 and yesterday it was predicted the edifice will be ready for library occupany before three months.

Rip Cut Old Walls

Today the workers continued their job of tearing out upstairs walls for the stairway opening called for in the reconditioning plans. The debris in the back of the building once was the walls of the post office.

"We're trying to make time on the job," the foreman in charge reported. "We'll probably add more men to the 23 we have soon."

The renovation work was made possible by a federal WPA grant and a sum contributed by the library's board of trustees, the sponsors. The appropriation for the work amounted to $28,994.

The new plans call for one of the most modern of library quarters with a basement auditorium 22x38½ feet.

Those in charge said that with the exception of a side doorway to the basement auditorium the exterior of the building will remain the same.

The entire exterior of the building will be given a cleaning as soon as the inside work is finished.

HARRISBURG, April 30.—The boys of the local chapters of the Future Craftsmen Association of Pennsylvania, an organization which functions in the public schools of the state, will hold their first state organization meeting at Hershey May 7-9, it was announced today by Dr. Lester K. FARMERS PAY HIGHER WAGES

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Farm hands are getting the highest spring wages in six years, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service. Wages have gone up 9 per cent since January and are now 12 per cent above the pre-war level.

The spring rise, the largest since the spring of 1923, is attributed to a reduced supply of labor. The supply was reported at 87 per cent of normal.

Mr. Ross presented the following program for assembly Friday, April 23:

ABOARD U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, WITH U. S. FLEET, April 30.—Bound for the second phase of its summer war games, the United States fleet put to sea Thursday after resting for several days at the Hawaiian Islands.

The 139 ships and 474 planes were divided into a "white" and a "black" fleet. The craft left for a secret rendezvous where they will engage in a major sea "battle" with the Hawaiian Islands as the stake.

It was learned the "white" fleet under Vice Admiral W. T. Tarrant will defend the islands, while the "black" fleet, under Admiral C. C. Bloch, will attack.

Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, fleet commander-in-chief, will act as umpire aboard the flagship Pennsylvania.

The two sections of the nation's great "first line of defense" will engage in sea maneuvers until they are ready for the "battle."

The division makes the command of Admiral Tarrant a little lighter and faster than the attackers, so he is expected to use every means to locate and pick off ships of the "black" before the actual engagement begins.

Every type of naval craft will be used in this phase of the annual summer maneuvers, and the enment will be conducted under the severest wartime-like conditions.

Waging Battle For Popularity

Polite Battle Being Waged By Queen Elizabeth And Duchess Of Kent

RIVALRY REACHING PEAK FOR CORONATION

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1937, by International News Service)

LONDON, April 30.—The most polite battle in all England's history—a struggle for popularity—is being waged today between Queen Elizabeth and Marina, Duchess of Kent.

It is spoken of only over the tea cups in London drawing rooms, but everyone in fashionable society is aware that the rivalry between the two ladies is reaching its peak now that the coronation draws near.

Marina, slim, tall and elegant, is undoubtedly the most fashionably dressed woman at court as well as one of the most beautiful.

Wardrobe Competition

Queen Elizabeth, who in the past never showed great interest in clothes, has been trying to assemble a larger and smarter wardrobe since her accession. But her natural taste is for "fussy" and pastel-colored clothes lavishly trimmed with fur, so at public functions she invariably has been outshone in smartness by the glamorous Duchess of Kent.

This rivalry existed even before the abdication of Edward, and started at the time Marina became the "darling of the duchesses" upon her marriage to the Duke of Kent. From the day she set foot on British soil she has been the most copied woman in England—everyone from duchesses to shopgirls have copied her dresses, hats and the way she wore her hair.

Second in public popularity was the charming and graceful Duchess of Gloucester, a pretty young woman with a winning smile who shared Marina's favor with the masses.

Battle Is On

Elizabeth, plainest of the royal duchesses, did not resent this until the spotlight was turned full glare upon her as queen, and she found that even her greater rank did not win her the admiration and praise accorded Marina.

As a result, she visited fashionable dressmakers more frequently than she ever had done in her life, but it is difficult for a dressmaker to influence royalty — especially royalty as strong-minded as Elizabeth—and it turned out that she influenced the designers more than they improved her.

Marina, refusing to copy the queen in the latter's flair for gray and mauve, continued her reign of the fashion world, her every appearance eliciting a "rave."

The fact that Marina is fond of the Duke of Windsor and that her husband is the duke's favorite brother is another reason for the coolness between her and Elizabeth. When Wallis Simpson was in London, the gay Duchess of Kent knew and liked her. Elizabeth, utterly conservative from the outset, would not tolerate her, simply pretending she did not exist.

If Marina goes to France after the coronation to attend the Simpson-Windsor wedding as she is said to have promised Edward, it will further widen the breach between her and the queen, who would prefer to ignore anything connected with the former king and Mrs. Simpson.

But Marina, secure in the admiration of the British public, does not care what Elizabeth thinks. She is a duchess who does as she pleases.

Gunderman Will Attend Funeral At Uniontown, Pa.

Convicted State Trooper Will Attend Services For Late Fellow Trooper Hoffer

(International News Service)

SOMERSET, Pa., April 30.—By order of Supreme Court Justice George W. Maxey, State Trooper Stacey Gunderman today was to be released from the Somerset county jail to attend the funeral at Uniontown of Private Joseph Hoffer, a fellow trooper fatally shot in a gun battle with an escaped prisoner who also was killed.

Gunderman was convicted of second degree murder last February in the alleged "third degree" death of Frank C. Monaghan, 64. He will be accompanied to Uniontown by a deputy sheriff.

Gunderman has been in jail since his conviction and Justice Maxey soon will hear arguments on his motion for a new trial. Maxey, who clashed heatedly with Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, ordered the acquittal of Gunderman's buddy, Anthony Sanute, when the jury was unable to agree.

Relief Appropriation May Be Sufficient

Sum Of $1,500,000,000 Will Be Sufficient Unless Costs Go Any Higher

WPA Employment Is Dropping At Rate Of 15,000 Weekly, Hopkins Reports

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation pending in Congress will be enough for the fiscal year beginning July 1 "if the employment curve continues to go up, and economic conditions continue to improve," WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins said today.

But if living costs and costs of material continue to increase "we will face a real problem," Hopkins added.

If $75,000,000 of the appropriation is to be turned over to the resettlement administration, and a like amount to the National Youth administration, the appropriation would provide work for an average of 1,679,000 persons for next year, a reduction of 402,000 from the present WPA rolls.

Drop 15,000 Weekly

"WPA employment is dropping at the rate of about 15,000 a week," Hopkins said.

A reduction of that rate until June 30 still would necessitate a WPA cut of 237,000 to meet the 1,679,000 figure.

"We will spend $1,850,000,000 to $1,900,000,000 this year," Hopkins said. "Average employment has been over 2,200,000. The average cost per man per year is $780 of federal funds. Anyone can figure out what we can do with $1,500,000,000."

"There are 350,000 employables on the relief rolls—and they will have to stay there," he said.

Shift Constantly

"That doesn't mean they are the same people every month. The relief rolls are shifting constantly. As some employables get jobs, others who have been employed find it necessary to go back on relief. There was an entire turnover of the relief rolls in 1934-35.

"But we know every unemployed person who is in need. We have their names, their addresses, their ages, their sex, and the kind of work they can do."

An unemployment census, Hopkins said, would be "desirable," but it would not be necessary as far as identifying the unemployed who are "in need".

Hopkins declared that states, cities and local communities are assuming more and more of the relief load, and expressed belief that they will increase their aid the coming two years, at least.

New Indictment Against Slayer At Buffalo, N. Y.

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 30.—An indictment charging first degree assault upon Frances Fitzgerald, 14-year-old school student, was returned today against Thomas Edward Smith, 18, awaiting trial for the first degree murder of Mary Ellen Babcock. He pleaded not guilty.

Smith, who allegedly confessed he brutally stabbed and beat Miss Babcock to death February 5th, was not apprehended until after he allegedly attacked Miss Fitzgerald with an ice pick March 28th. Police questioning of the youth concerning the assault led to his alleged confession of the murder.

Trial of the Babcock case was scheduled for June 1.

Pinchot Attacks President's Plan

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 30—Claiming President Roosevelt's pending bill for reorganization of federal departments would "abolish congress," Gifford Pinchot, former Republican governor of Pennsylvania, today appealed to the Izaak Walton league to fight "this double-barrelled attack on conservation and democracy."

Addressing members of the league in session here, Pinchot told them they were vitally affected by the measure's proposal to divide the government's conservation work between the department of agriculture, where he said it is now well-handled, and the interior department.

Pinchot said the interior department's handling of publicly-owned natural resources in the past," is one of the blackest scandals of our history."

EARLE SIGNS THREE BILLS

Controversial Haluska Bituminous Miners Certification Bill Is Signed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Written on Pennsylvania's statute books today was the Haluska bituminous miners certification bill.

Gov. George H. Earle signed the measure, introduced by Senator John Haluska (D) Cambria, which makes it mandatory for all bituminous miners to be certified by district examining boards.

The act provides that, upon payment of a $2 fee, every miner now employed in the bituminous fields will automatically receive a certificate while others must serve a two-year apprenticeship.

The measure met with defeat for more than 40 years in the General Assembly.

Signs Other Bills

Other bills signed by the governor:

Provide how warehouse receipts may be negotiated; set up the method by which townships of the first class may be created; authorize second class counties to help political sub-divisions in negotiating with public service companies;

Extend the time during which applications for veterans' compensation may be filed; further regulate the suspension and dismissal of policemen and firemen in second class A cities; authorize the highways department to abandon sections of state routes within state parks or federal resettlement projects.

Say one thing for revolution. It's the only known method of clearing out the awful accumulation of job holders.

It isn't necessary to go West now. Just wait patiently at home and it will blow in.

CONSTIPATION CUTS DOWN YOUR ENERGY, DULLS HAPPINESS

Don't let common constipation take all the fun out of living. This condition drains your vitality and enthusiasm. It may also be the cause of dull headaches, poor appetite, sleeplessness. You feel punk.

Why endure half-sick days when you can correct constipation due to meals low in "bulk" by eating a delicious cereal?

Millions of people have used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with satisfactory results. Laboratory tests prove it's safe and effective.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently cleanses the intestines. Isn't this food better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Three times daily, in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MY WIFE'S FOUND A NEW DESSERT AND IT'S SWELL . . . INDIVIDUAL PINEAPPLE SHORTCAKE—JUST MELTS IN YOUR MOUTH RECIPE BELOW

INDIVIDUAL PINEAPPLE SHORTCAKES
With tender Spry biscuit crust

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
5 tablespoons Spry
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup milk
6 slices canned pineapple
⅔ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
12 maraschino cherries (optional)
Juice of 1 lemon
1 cup canned pineapple juice,
2 teaspoons cornstarch

Sift flour with baking powder, salt, and sugar. Cut in Spry until mixture is as fine as corn meal. (Done so quickly and easily with triple-creamed Spry.) Combine beaten egg and milk and add to dry ingredients, mixing until a soft dough is formed. Knead lightly on floured board for about 20 seconds. Roll to ¼-inch thickness.

Cut in 12 circles the size of the pineapple slices. Place 6 circles on baking sheet greased with Spry and put a slice of pineapple on each. Sprinkle pineapple with ⅔ cup brown sugar and dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Cover with remaining circles of dough from which the centers have been cut to fit pineapple centers. Press edges firmly together, place 2 cherries in each cavity, and bake in very hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes. They'll be beautifully light and fine-textured, thanks to Spry!

Heat fruit juices. Combine remaining brown sugar with cornstarch and add, stirring until mixture thickens. Cook 10 minutes. Add remaining butter and serve as sauce with shortcakes. Serves 6.

Youngstown Man Seeks New Trial

Man Convicted Of Death Of Infant Result Of Auto Crash, Asks New Trial

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 30—Gilbert J. Eichenlaub (of Hays avenue,) Youngstown, O., convicted in criminal court on a charge of manslaughter in the death of an 18-month old infant in an automobile accident today announced his intention of filing a motion for a new trial.

Judge C. D. Fetterhoof, before whom Eichenlaub was convicted of involuntary manslaughter, deferred sentence pending the outcome of the motion for a new trial.

The infant, Bernadette M. Schleuning, was killed when the car in which she was riding collided with Eichenlaub's machine, on the Perry highway, near Wexford, last August 12. Her skull was fractured when she was thrown from the arms of a neighbor woman against the side of the car.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 30—By reason of Gov. George H. Earle's signature on a legislative bill, Pennsylvania today was under a permanent voter registration system.

In signing the bill which he claimed will kill for all time the "phantom" voters in the commonwealth, the governor said:

This achievement is one of tremendous importance and significance to the people of Pennsylvania. The general assembly deserves highest praises for enacting this bill."

Previously only Pittsburgh and Scranton had permanent registration.

Nazarene Church District Leader To Leave Office

New Superintendent Must Be Elected At Convention Here Next Week

OPENING MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT

REV. C. WARREN JONES

At next week's Nazarene convention in the Cathedral, Rev. C. Warren Jones will retire from the office of district superintendent.

During the eight years he has occupied this office the district has had a remarkable growth. In 1928 there were 58 churches with a membership of 4,700. Today the Pittsburgh District has 120 churches with almost 11,000 members. The Sunday school enrollment has increased from 11,000 to 21,000.

Will Elect Officers

A new superintendent and other district officers will be elected during the convention. Dr. Jones has been elected to the office of general foreign missions secretary. His work will be to supervise missionary activities in 12 foreign fields and edit the missionary publications of the denomination. He will make his home at Kansas City, Mo., near the Nazarene headquarters buildings.

Prominent visitors slated to attend the convention will include Rev. I. C. Mathis of Tyler, Texas, Rev. A. F. Balsemeyer of Hutchinson, Kansas, and Rev. Samuel Young of Watertown, Mass. Prof. Haldor Lillenas, nationally known song writer and music publisher, will assist in the music of the night services. President Gideon Williamson of Eastern Nazarene college, will speak and the E. N. C. male quartet will attend for the entire week.

First Service Monday

The first service for the public will be Monday night, May 3, in the main dining room of the Cathedral. Speakers at that service will be Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Keeler, outgoing missionaries to Brava, Cape Verde Islands.

Services will continue throughout the week. Reports, elections and other district business will take place during the day sessions; the night services will be musical and evangelistic, featuring sermons by Rev. Jarette Aycock of Bethany, Okla.

BUSINESS-LIKE HOLDUP

(International News Service)

BOSTON—So business-like was the activity of a hold-up man rifling the cash register of a Roxbury store that a customer who entered while the thief was at work, misunderstood the proprietor's frantic hand signals to call police in the belief he was being warned not to disturb tabulation of the register, and walked from the store.

BE SURE, NOW

A backwoods woman, the soles of whose feet had been toughened by a lifetime of shoelessness, was standing in front of her cabin fireplace one day when her husband addressed her.

"You'd better move your foot a mite, maw; you're standing on a live coal."

Said she, nonchalantly; "Which foot, paw?"

The Townsmen To Hold Own Marble 'Rodeo' Saturday

City-Wide Tournament Backers Will Try Out Rules For Themselves

Members of The Townsmen, civic organization here, will stage a small-scale marble tournament of their own at Boyles field on Saturday afternoon—partly for the fun of it but mostly to get a fresh idea of what school boys and school girls will be up against when they begin competing next Monday in The Townsmens city-wide mibs competition.

The plans call for the opening shot at 2 o'clock. The winner may be crowned—and still he may go uncrowned.

Scores of school children had enrolled at different public and parochial schools throughout the city today for the big tournament which gets under way Monday afternoon and which continues until a city champ, the lucky one who will travel to Wildwood, N. J., in July to compete nationally, is chosen.

Club officers said today that a large turnout of members would compete in tomorrow's "prevue tourney." Contest rules will be given a thorough test.

Co-operating with The Townsmen in the big meet opening Monday are physical education directors of the schools and National Youth Administration representatives.

Blessed are the downtrodden. They haven't been spoiled, so they don't feel abused when nobody acts sympathetic.

But how can Congress prevent sit-down strikes? What's the good of a new law making it illegal to break the law?

Teachers Were Not Legally Dismissed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 30.—In a formal opinion, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti today ruled that teachers given notice of dismissal less than 60 days prior to the enactment of the teachers' tenure act on April 6, 1937, were not [illegible] discharged.

Requested by Dr. Lester K. Ade, secretary of public instruction, the ruling effects several hundred commonwealth teachers given 60 days notice of the termination of their contracts prior to April 6, the Justice Department announced.

The tenure act provides that instructors may be dismissed only for cause, and not on 60 days notice, as set forth in the school code.

Circus Mixup At Sharon, Pa.

International News Service Staff

SHARON, Pa., April 30.—Tom Mix and Hoot Gibson, the movie cowboys, got into a real mix-up here today.

Mix's circus which showed at Youngstown, O., yesterday passed through here early today and apparently followed direction markers intended for the Wallace Brothers show in which Gibson stars.

The Mix drivers thought they were in Oil City where the Mix show was to open today. The Mix trucks arrived first and started unloading and then the Wallace trucks arrived.

The confusion interrupted automobile and trolley traffic near the grounds and was finally settled with the Mix show pulling out and moving to Oil City where it was supposed to be.

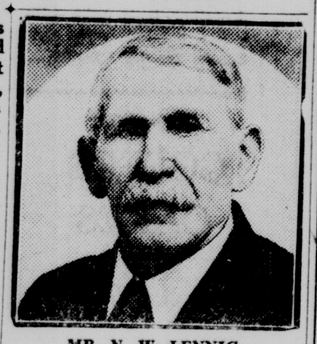
NEW CASTLE MAN VERY HAPPY SINCE WIFE IS WELL AGAIN

Was Suffering From Troubles In Her Stomach, Bloated Feeling, Sourness, Short Breath. Dizzy All The Time, Spots Before Eyes. Says Vendol Gave Marvelous Relief.



MR. N. W. LENNIG

Many of the best friends of Vendol are men and women who haven't enjoyed their meals for years because they were unable to eat without suffering afterwards. That was the trouble with Mrs. Lennig who lives at 1045 Adams Street, New Castle. Her husband, Mr. N. W. Lennig, in a recent conversation with the Vendol Man in the New Castle Drug Co., where he is daily meting people and explaining all about the new combination medicine, said: "For many years my wife has suffered from violent digestive troubles.

"Everything she ate seemed to sour in her stomach and result in terrible gas pains, acid risings, sourness and shortness of breath. She really dreaded for meal time to come.

"She often felt dizzy and if she would lean over the least bit, spots would flash before her eyes. Her tongue was coated, awakened every morning with a horrible taste in her mouth, her nerves were quivery, she couldn't sleep well but was restless for hours after going to bed.

"I got some Vendol and a box of the little Vendol laxative tablets for her a few weeks ago and it is simply marvelous the way this medicine has helped her, which has made me very happy.

"The first thing she noticed was that her constipation was relieved and then her food no longer upset her stomach and now she never has the sourness, gas or bloating. The dizziness passed off and her nerves settled down so that she enjoys sound, restful sleep every night. Her appetite has picked up and this has given her more strength and energy.

"Vendol is by far the finest medicine I ever used in my family and I can recommend it to everyone needing a reliable remedy."

Give this double-acting medicine made from Nature's roots and herbs combined with valuable Alkalines, a chance to help you, too. It is sold by all leading druggists and the Vendol Man invites all local people to visit him at the New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington St.. See him, get a free sample. Vendol is also sold by the New Castle Drug Co., 24 N. Mill St.

City Hi-Y Groups Star At Induction

Team From Here Officiates At Mass Ceremony In Slippery Rock

HOST OF 600 JOIN IN DISTRICT EVENT

New Castle's Hi-Y clubs annexed new honors when their able representatives played lead roles last night in the impressive district Hi-Y induction service which drew almost 600 Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members from most of Western Pennsylvania to the Slippery Rock State Teachers college campus.

The local organizations provided the 11-man induction team which formally obligated the newly elected officers of the participating clubs. A host of 72 Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y officers were installed.

Ceremony Annual Event

Each year the youths assemble in the college town for the mass installation ceremony. The one of last night was the largest ever to take place, officials of the state "Y" organization, the official sponsor, said.

Dr. Charles Miller, president of Slippery Rock college, A. C. Dukes, state "Y" staff member and Leo H. Kohl, district secretary for the state "Y" were program participants.

The 45-minute induction, held in a room lighted only by burning candles, was one of the most impressive services ever to be conducted in local Hi-Y history.

John Thompson, boys' department aide at the "Y" here, was chairman of the induction team, others serving were Joseph Lockley, representing the faculty advisors of the Hi-Y groups; Fred Allen and Bill Ellgass, Senior Hi-Y representatives; George Gardner and Tom McCormick of the Lincoln Hi-Y; Bob McGrew of the Union township high school Hi-Y; Sam Davey, junior class Hi-Y representative; Bill Reed, George Washington Alpha Hi-Y representative; Joe Proctor, vocal accompanist, and Bob Withers, piano accompanist.

After the induction prominent speakers told of Hi-Y work.

Laud New Castle Work

District Secretary Kohl praised the New Castle groups as "the most outstanding Hi-Y organizations in the state" and called attention to their work here.

Activities Director Henry T. MacNichols was present with the local delegation.

Before the evening induction, the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y host banqueted in one of the college halls.

Charley Grimm Is Fined $50

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 30.—Charley Grimm, manager of the Chicago Cubs, today was fined $50 by Ford Frick, president of the National league.

Grimm was banished from yesterday's game at Pittsburgh by Umpire Charley Moran after disputing a decision at the plate.

the American Legion is not thoroughly understood, Commander Colmery said. If the program of the American Legion is adopted, this country will be far from the top in armament strengti.. No sane person, he charged, wants our country to follow the mad armaments race of Europe; Russia with 1,300,000 men under arms; France with more than 600,000, and Italy more than 500,000, with England desiring peace, but forced to arm feverishly to protect herself. "These are forces for aggression; we want forces solely for defense," he said.

While this is the primary legislative program, Commander Colmery stated in closing that he wanted to refer briefly to one other subject, because it is an essential part of the American Legion's program to maintain peace. That was neutrality. His definition of neutrality, he stated, is doing the things that are reasonably necessary to keep us out of other nation's wars on the economic front and thereby eliminating another potent means of getting ourselves dragged in on the military front.

Presented By Classmate

He spoke also of the Child Welfare program of the American Legion, part of the Legion's American program, on which two and a half million dollars was spent last year. This included the sponsoring of Boy Scout troops, of which the Legion now sponsors 3,100 troops in this country; the boys' citizenship movement, where boys are gathered together during the summer and taught the principles of American citizenship; the American Legion Junior Baseball leagues on which the Legion is spending a great amount of time and money, and which finds a million and a half boys taking part.

The average citizen thinks in selfish terms but the American Legion believes there is a job for everyone in trying to promote the things which stand for the best interests of this country. It is trying to build a foundation so deep and so strong that no revolutionary change can uproot it. He urged the Legionnaires and Auxiliary members to reach out and bring others into line with this program, stating in conclusion that the ideals of America are the best for all.

Commander Colmery was introduced to the audience by Attorney William J. Caldwell, who was a classmate of Mr. Colmery, both at Oberlin college and at the University of Pittsburgh, where they studied law together. Attorney Caldwell honored with the privilege of presenting the national commander to the Legionnaires and citizens of this district.

Patterson Toastmaster

Attorney Clarence A. Patterson served as toastmaster of the evening. He was presented to the audience by David Tobin, commander of the Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343 of this city, which sponsored the banquet and meeting here in the Cathedral last evening.

The distinguished guests were presented to the audience by Guy J. Wadlinger, commander of the 26th district.

An unusual coincidence was noted at last evening's meeting. There were heads of four national organizations present: C. H. W. Ruhe, of Pittsburgh, commander of the G. A. R.; Miss Edythe Davidson, national president of the Women's Overseas Service League, and Louis A. Conn, of this city, national commander of the Society of the 28th Division, A. E. F., beside the Legion commander.

G. A. R. Head Speaks

Comrade Ruhe was introduced to the guests at the banquet and spoke briefly, bringing greetings from the organization which is the daddy of all service organizations and in whose footsteps the veterans of later wars have followed.

Mr. Ruhe, who is 87 years of age, has only recently returned from a tour of the New England and Eastern seaboard district. He found mighty few of his comrades still living and able to be about, being greeted by no more than a dozen at any of his stopping places on the trip, he stated.

Mrs. Eben P. Keen, president of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Department of Pennsylvania, gave a splendid talk in which she outlined the responsibility which faces the parents of this country in keeping their children away from the tentacles of Communism, and crime.

Our forefathers came to this country to establish homes, but there are many immigrants landing on our shores today who are trying to destroy our homes and our people.

Mrs. Keen stated that a nation can be changed by immigration far quicker than by invasion. It is up to all of us to foster a real American life to forestall these invaders.

Kress Gives Aims

Walter J. Kress, state commander, spoke of the splendid progress the American Legion has made this year, the membership at the present time standing at 65,000, the most it has ever been at this period of the year in the state of Pennsylvania, and it is his ambition to have a membership of 100,000 before the year is over.

He spoke feelingly of the assistance the auxiliary is giving the posts of the state, particularly with the junior baseball program, poppy distribution and hospitalization.

He stated that the state of Pennsylvania expects to have the greatest delegation of veterans present at the national convention in New York City outside the host state of New York, and 25,000 are expected to march in the 24-hour parade which will be staged.

Commander Colmery stated that the American Legion is also ahead on its national membership for this period of the year, there being 860,000 members as of May 1.

Local Singers Heard

Beautiful vocal numbers were rendered by Mrs. William J. Caldwell, accompanied by Kathryn N. Allen and by David W. Rees, accompanied by Edwin Lewis. Both are talented local singers and their numbers last evening were particularly suited to the occasion.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. J. D. Van Horn, of Beaver Falls, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. John J. McIlvaine, chaplain of the Perry S. Gaston Post, and pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The champion American Legion Cadet Band of the Perry S. Gaston Post furnished music during the course of the dinner in the main dining room, where a thousand people were served.

They also rendered several numbers during the program in the auditorium and they were given a tremendous ovation, National Commander Colmery speaking warmly of the splendid organization which is representing the local post.

Commander Colmery was a little late in arriving here. He had been expected to get in around 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but did not arrive until shortly before 8 o'clock in the evening, having come all the way from Washington, D. C., by auto, leaving that place around noon.

Mrs. Keen, the department auxiliary head, arrived during the afternoon and was greeted by her friends of the auxiliary at a reception in The Castleton, presided over by Mary C. Wilson, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Gaston Post.

During the course of the evening beautiful floral bouquets were presented to Mrs. Keen and also to Mrs. A. H. Dennison, district director of the auxiliary, the presentations being made by Mrs. Dosh Anderson, of Beaver, president of the Four-County Council.

Miss Edythe K. Davidson, president of the Women's Overseas Service League, was presented with a bouquet by Mrs. Olive Reed Bolinger, in behalf of the local chapter of the organization, of which Miss Cora Ritchie is the president.

Dancing followed the close of the speaking program.

The committees which had charge of the arrangements of the evening were as follows:

Wallace Bros. Circus Here On Saturday

Tomorrow is circus day and all roads lead to the Mill street show grounds where the big Wallace Brothers Circus will give two performances starring Hoot Gibson and a host of stellar circus attractions. The matinee will begin at 2:00 o'clock the evening performance will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

Vast spreads of canvas, fluttering flags, roaring lions, trumpeting elephants, gaudy mid-way banners, all familiar sights and sounds will again permeate the Mill street show grounds. Today a barren field, tomorrow a place of glamorous excitement, the circus is coming to town.

Flashing direct from the silver screen to the big hippodrome track of the circus, Hoot Gibson, idol of youngsters and oldsters alike will demonstrate the expert skill as roper, marksman, and superb rider which won him the coveted title, world champion cowboy. This title was annexed by the Westerner at the International Rodeo at Pendleton, Oregon, where he entered every event to emerge from the grinding contest with the all around cup.

Hoot Gibson and his wild-riding contingent recruited from the film colony, however form but one of the many outstanding attractions with which Col. George Wallace will invade New Castle tomorrow.

Along about mid-way through the program Capt. Thomas with a shrill blast of his ring-master's whistle gives the signal which ends the horse section. Beautiful mounts prance from the three rings and the audience grows quiet. Then Viola Rooks is announced and as the pretty young lady makes her way to the center ring where she is drawn aloft, high off the ground to a point just under the dome of the Big Top a tenseness sweeps through the audience. Nor is this tenseness relieved as Viola goes through her act ending with the inimitable feat of balancing on her head on a swinging spinning trapeze bar.

Capt. Thomas Burns with his three ring display of performing dancing elephants always receives a round of hearty applause from the most discriminating audiences.

A few of the many other top notch circus attractions under the Wallace banner this year includes, the Rogintosh Troupe of European bare-back riders;; the Volera Brothers, with one of the swiftest high flying acts in the world; the Vernes Family of famous circus gymnasts and acrobats; Col. Lewis and his 40 dancing Arabian horses; the Rogers Sisters, called the sweethearts of the tight wire; Jack and Sills, high perch artists; the Tanarakai Troupe of Japanese wizards; red-headed Pearl Harris, clever aerialist; Capt. George Dalbeanie, noted Australian equilibristic acrobat; Viscount Thomas Shaw, high balancer; and scores of other circus attractions.

Under leadership of Edward Raymond, famous Continental pantomime artist hosts of clever clowns carry on in the three rings and on the hippodrome track.

Sometimes You Can't Believe Your Own Eyes

Many people often marvel at the amazingly fine clothes we are able to make for the low price of $24.50. Some even ask us how we do it. It's a fair question, and here is a frank answer.

We do not buy our clothes. We make them, and we sell them direct to you from our own factory. There is no middleman of any kind between you and us to add a second profit.

We buy our materials direct from the country's largest and finest mills, and every yard must measure up to our high standard or back it goes. We pay cash. We sell for cash . . . and the savings are put into the clothes.

We're specialists, too. We specialize in clothes only and at only one price. This means more efficiency as well as greater economy. We've been doing this for 58 years, and we know how.

These are the facts. Is it any wonder we can and do offer you America's finest low-priced clothes?

Robinson Is Opposed To Budget Plan

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 30—A split over economy developed among Democratic leaders Thursday when Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader of the senate, announced his opposition to the proposal to impound 15 per cent of appropriations subject to restoration by the president.

Robinson's criticism was directed at the house resolution which, according to Speaker Bankhead, has the approval of President Roosevelt.

"I believe that the proposal of Senator Byrnes for a 10 per cent reduction in appropriations, exclusive of fixed charges, is a more practicable way of dealing with the situation," said Robinson.

The senate leader also was said to favor a slash in the $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation sought by President Roosevelt if it can be shown that such a cut can be made without causing human suffering.

Lion Tamer's Wife Star Too

Talented Couple Appear With Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus Next Week

MAKE PETS OF WILD ANIMALS

Being married to a lion trainer has its advantages and dis-advantages according to Dolly Jacobs, the pretty wife of Terrell Jacobs, one of the stars of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, coming to New Castle for afternoon and night performances and a huge street parade on Friday, May 7.

Last spring just before the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus opened in Chicago, Terrell, who is known universally as the Lion King decided to make a pet of a young lion cub. Not to be outdone and also to keep harmony in the house, or to be exact the state-room of the Pullman car, the good wife selected a baby leopard, which she added to the house-hold. Up to the present, there have been no casualties and Mrs. Jacobs insists she is going to keep the leopard as long as the husband has his pet lion.

While Dolly Jacobs is by profession a circus performer, as yet she has not taken up animal training. She prefers to let one person in the family tackle this hazardous profession. Mrs. Jacobs appears in the menage numbers being an accomplished equestrienne and also a finished aerial artist. You'll see her high in the Hagenbeck-Wallace tent when this big show arrives.

And she has one policy, she never watches her husband when he is working with his fighting lions in the big cage. But you'll always find him lurking about when she is swinging high over the audience in the big top.

Greta Garbo Once Begged For Role In German Play

Producer Claims He Loaned Great Star $10,500 In Early Days

GRETA DENIES HE LOANED HER MONEY

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—Thirteen years ago, Greta Garbo, one of Hollywood's highest paid stars, went humbly to a German producer to plead for a "bit" role in motion pictures, she admitted in a deposition in a civil suit revealed Thursday.

The producer was David Shratter, who claims that at that time and shortly thereafter he loaned her a total of $10,500.

In the deposition, made last October in a suit over this amount, Miss Garbo admitted Shratter had aided her career but emphatically denied he ever advanced her any money.

The suit here is being brought by H. Fitzpatrick, an assignee of the claim.

The deposition is in the possession of James J. McCarthy, attorney for the plaintiff, who said it was taken in Miss Garbo's dressing room at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio.

It will be used when the case comes to trial May 7.

Miss Garbo, according to the document, said she met Shratter in Stockholm, Sweden, in 1924. She said she was introduced to him by Maurice Stiller, famous film director who was sponsoring her career.

She and Stiller begged Shratter to give her a small part in a picture he was going to produce, she said.

Although the attorney claims Shratter advanced her 5,000 kronen as well as signing her to the part, Miss Garbo denied he gave her the money.

The picture was never finished, although Miss Garbo journeyed to Constantinople with the company, according to the deposition.

Attorney McCarthy explained that the picture was unfinished because of trouble over taxes with the German government.

After she left Constantinople, Miss Garbo and Stiller again met Shratter in Berlin, the deposition says.

The actress said she and Stiller often had dinner with Shratter and Mrs. Shratter.

According to the complaint, Shratter loaned her 23,000 German marks during this time, but in the deposition Miss Garbo denies this.

It was at that time that Miss Garbo realizing her life's ambition and was gaining fame as a motion picture actress, playing in Swedish and German films.

Shortly after that, in 1925, she came to America where she rapidly became a world renowned star.

A week ago Miss Garbo was served with a subpoena to appear in the suit here May 7 after an unnamed process server approached her limousine when it stopped at a traffic light.

The server threw the paper onto her lap.

POULTRY SHIPPING MAY BE AFFECTED

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Pennsylvania shippers of live poultry to New York City markets were cautioned today by J. Hansell French, Secretary of Agriculture, against possible labor troubles at unloading points on and after May 1.

Shippers contemplating deliveries in the New York area should consult the Bureau of Markets, Harrisburg, before loading. The bureau is keeping in close touch with the situation so that Pennsylvania poultrymen may be protected.

TOTS SEE COCKFIGHT

Cockfighting is being made bigger and better in France with the hope of attracting followers of the sport from other countries. Every age is becoming interested in the matches. At a Calais cockfight recently women and children comprised a large percentage of the spectators. Large sums of money changed hands in betting, women putting their money on their favorites as well as the men. M. Buponchel, vice president of the Federation of Cockfighting of the Nord and Pas Calais Department, says that cocks will be imported from Belgium to breed fiercer fighters.

Johnstown Wants Immediate Action On Flood Control

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—Cambria county officials, demanding immediate flood control, informed Col. W. E. R. Covell, chief of the U. S. army engineers, the county stood ready to bear its share of the cost.

"Our plan," said Sheriff M. J. Boyle, "is for the county to issue $1,000,000 bonds and the city of Johnstown $500,000. As 45 per cent of the property valuation in Cambria county is in Johnstown, we look upon the problem as affecting the county as a whole."

Councilman W. A. Magee of Pittsburgh, invited to sit in at the conference, heralded the offer as the first step in the right direction.

"This is the only way to go about widespread improvement of the Monongahela and Allegheny watersheds with a view to checking floods," he said.

Lots of Competition

"Because of competition all over the United States for flood control, together with competition upon the federal credit for numerous other social and economic objectives, those communities that show willingness to help themselves will be the first to obtain federal aid," he continued.

"Johnstown lost $30,000,000 in last year's flood," said Cambria County Controller Henry L. Cannon. "Last Monday the water is estimated to have caused $500,000 damage. There has been loss of life. Our people are demanding action."

Farm Labor Is Exempt From Accident Law

Employers Not Forced To Provide Compensation Insurance

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Agricultural workers in Pennsylvania, 13 other states and the District of Columbia are specifically excluded from the benefits of workmen's compensation laws, declares J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture. The other 13 states are Alabama, Delaware, Florida, Iowa, Maryland, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The laws of New Hampshire, Washington and Wyoming exclude farm workers from benefits of their workmen's compensation laws by failing to list them among the workers covered.

Some states require workers engaged in certain extra-hazardous farm tasks to be insured under their workmen's compensation acts. In Arizona, farm labor using machinery must be insured. In Ohio such insurance is compulsory as to all employments excepting those having less than three employees. In South Dakota and Kentucky, such insurance is compulsory as to threshing grain, also in Kentucky for hulling grains and seeds.

Workmen's compensation insurance for agricultural workers is elective in California, Michigan and New Jersey.

THREE ARE SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Mayor Charles E. McGrath yesterday sentenced Ed. Payne, colored, Henry Ruha and Frank Cicone, to the Allegheny county workhouse. Each was sentenced to serve three months. They were sent away following repeated appearances before the mayor. The charge against the trio was vagrancy. Sometime ago the mayor sent several police court frequenters to the workhouse.

Parties Confront New Registration Problem

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., April 30.—The passing of the new registration bill at Harrisburg making compulsory personal registration in the town and townships of Mercer county will obligate the organization in both old parties of workers to get out the vote and get it registered.

Registrar Frank McConnon for the commissioners states there will be three dates on which voters may register. One date in June, July and August will be selected by the commissioners at a later date. The field registration work will be finished prior to August 14, states McConnon, which will give his office 30 days in which to make ready for the primary of September 21.

The year is what is termed by the politicians as an "off year' in politics. There are no state officials to be balloted on and the county ticket calls for the election of jury commissioner only in each party now that the poor directors are dispensed with. Regardless of this fact the leaders in both parties are anticipating a heavy registration due to the local elections in every precinct. These local decisions, it is pointed out, bring out a larger group of voters than even the presidential contests due to the strain in human nature that voices either approval or its contrary, hate, where your neighbor is concerned.

Getting the vote in the rural districts registered during the harvest season will mean an effort on the part of the Republicans who have the majority in these districts.

Surrenders Self On Federal Charge

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 30.—Federal agents today left for Detroit with Manning R. Kauffman, 38, alias Robert Kimball, sought there since 1935 on charges of using the mails to defraud and of violating the federal securities and exchange.

Kauffman walked into a newspaper office here, told the editor that under the name of Kimball he was wanted in Detroit and asked the editor to call a postal inspector to arrest him. He said he gave himself up to "square his conscience and to start all over."

Kauffman, who has been working here as an automobile salesman, said he formerly lived in Chicago and has a wife and two children there.

Keystones Close Successful Year, League Champions

Keystone Floor Team Won 25 And Lost 13 During 1937 Season

House-Indus League Champs, Bullano High Scorer, Venditto Coach

The Keystone A. C. basketball team coached by Andy "Coots" Venditto has closed a most successful campaign on the basketball courts of the district, and show 25 victories and 13 defeats for a mighty enviable record. The Keystones won the championship of the House-Indus league at the "Y" during the winter.

Any team that can score a total of 1192 points and not have a floor of their own to play on, is some pumpkins. There were 450 field goals tossed in, and 212 fouls made out of 450 shots.

Bullano Leading Scorer

Sammy Bullano, one of the best basketball players in New Castle today was the leading scorer of the Keys team with 179 points being shoved hard by John Teplica who had 168. Bullano tossed in 76 field goal and 27 fouls. Teplica had 26 field goals and 26 fouls.

Six of the Keys had over 100 points for the season—Bulano, Gennock Teplica, Reiber, Morrison and Zingaro. The Keystones in addition to being House-Indus league champs, were runnersup to the Falcons for the City-County title, and quarter-finalists at the Boardman, Ohio tourney. The opponents scored a total of 1,010 against the Keys.

Praise For Venditto

It as mainly through the untiring efforts of Coach Andy Venditto that the Keys were able to attain the honors that they did. Venditto is a veteran of the hardwood coaching profession and each year either turns out a championship team or a team that comes mighty close. In addition is a grand fellow to know, one of the very finest, and a good influence on the boys that he comes in contact with. Venditto has put in many long hours with the team, but the results show it. The Keys are one of the best teams in the district.

Will Get Awards

The business end of the team, all booking, etc., was done by that genial young man Rocco P. Viggiano. He did a swell job. His was also an untiring job, Vinnie Gallagher and Carm Benincase also helped out with the Keys team and deserve credit. Next year Venditto and Viggiano hope to put out another winning team and will reward each of the players this year with new jackets for their efforts in bringing the championship of the "Y" league to the Keystone club. A bigger and better team is planned for next year.

The scoring record of the team:

Ray Schalk To Bowl Tenpins

Ex-Big League Catcher Will Enter ABC Tourney At New York City

By GLEN R. BIRCHARD
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 30.—Ray Schalk, manager of the Buffalo Bisons in the International Baseball league by summer, and owner of bowling alleys in Chicago by winter, is to be the next ex-major league player of note to take part in the American Bowling Congress tournament. Everett "Deacon" Scott was the last to appear.

Schalk, whose team is playing Newark the next two days, visited the tourney last night and was invited to get into action. He declared he was in the mood and officials are to fix him up with a berth on one of the teams rolling the next two nights.

Ray, who put in 26 years in organized baseball, and is accorded one of its catching greats, looked at his fingers gnarled from thousands of foul tips and other blows and opined he would have to have a ball with a special grip. This will be furnished him by the local management.

Pirates Defeat Chicago Cubs In Thirteenth 6 To 5

Bowman Wins For Pirates In Relief Role, Giants Top Dodgers

CLEVELAND TOPS TIGERS 12 TO 3

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 30.—Tear the New York Giants apart, as everyone does sooner or later, and you still come up with the idea that they should win the National league pennant. They shouldn't have won it last year, but did, and seemingly they are a far better club now, and the obvious conclusion is that they should do at least as well as they did in 1936.

The Giants' infield already has caused general astonishment with its defensive play; the hitting has been fair to good with a chance of improvement, and the pitching positively has been a revelation.

Hubbell can be banked on for his 20 wins, give or take a few and the rest of the flingers likewise are turning in neat jobs in virtually every start. Schumacher, on the word of Catcher Gus Mancuso, is as good as he was two or three years ago; Cliff Melton looks like a certain starter for the rest of the season after his 13-strikeout performance of a few days ago, and the other members of the staff are coming through.

Pirates Top Cubs.

Latest accomplishment was Freddy Fitzsimmons' performance against the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday. The knuckle ball expert allowed only five hits in scoring a 9 to 0 shutout. Not only that, but he hit a home run and Whitehead hit two to help out.

The Boston Bees pulled the Philadelphia Phillies nearer to their final resting place in the cellar by taking a 6 to 4 decision in 11 innings on Cuccinello's home run with one on.

St. Louis tightened its hold on first place with a 6 to 1 win over Cincinnati, with Lon Warneke hurling the victory, and Pittsburgh remained in second place by beating the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 5.

Yanks Beat Senators.

In the American league the New York Yankees clung to the top with a 4 to 2 victory over the Washington Senators in a hurling duel which was won by Monte Pearson over Monte Weaver. The defeat left Washington deep in the cellar.

Cleveland stuck in second place with a 12 to 3 win over Detroit, tied for third, and the Chicago White Sox downed the St. Louis Browns, 12 to 0, Monte Stratton pitching the shutout and allowing only eight scattered hits.

Philadelphia and Boston idled through a rainstorm.

Board Of Trade Signs New Men

The South Side Board of Trade baseball team, members of the City Baseball League today signed Butchelli of Wampum, and Marshall of Hillsville, for a tryout with the team. The announcement was made by Manager Charles Scaglione.

The team will have a workout at the Rosena Furnace field tonight at 5:30 o'clock (weather permitting). The team will also stage a workout on Sunday at 2 p. m.

MEXICO CITY, April 30.—Australia's great 1937 tennis team will make a clean sweep of the Davis Cup zone matches with Mexico which get underway this afternoon, it was predicted on all sides today.

Adrian Quist, world's No. 3 ranking amateur, will open the series against Esteban M. Reyes, No. 2 ranking Mexican singles player. Quist is expected to win in straight sets.

Vivian McGrath, the ambidextrous Australian backhand expert, drew the 120 pound Dr. Tapia for an opponent.

Jack Crawford, 29-year-old veteran, will be paired with Quist in the doubles.

Ryantown Will Battle Wampum

Shorty Thornton Is Confined To His Home By Throat Ailment

Ryantown baseball team has scheduled the Wampum team of the County league for an exhibition game Sunday afternoon at the Ryantown field at 2:30 o'clock, it was announced by Business Manager Heasley today.

The game will be played of course (weather permitting). The Wampum team is one of the strongest in the county and will give the Ryantownians a tough engagement.

The Ryantowns will have a workout at the Ryantown field at 5:30 o'clock tonight it was announced. It was announced today that Shorty Thornton left-handed pitcher of the Ryantown team is ill with a throat infection and not allowed to have company. It is hoped that the popular flinger gets better in time to be on hand for the opening gong in the City league on May 16.

Legion League Opens Saturday

Three Games Scheduled Between Teams Sponsored By Legion

Due to wet grounds the American Legion, Perry Gaston Junior Baseball league was unable to open Tuesday so the opening of the circuit will take place Saturday afternoon. Three games will be played.

West Side will oppose Mahoningtown at Mahoningtown; South Side will meet the North Hill at George Washington Junior high field, and the East Side will clash with the Colored boys on Ryantown field.

Frank Wood is chairman of the legion's baseball committee. Pat Callahan and other legionnaires have been coaching the teams.

Tennis Stars Meet Japanese In Cup Match

Five Matches In Davis Cup Play Elimination Will Be Played On Coast

By MILTON G. DUNLAP
International News Service Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Eyes of the American tennis world were focussed on San Francisco today as the all-important Davis Cup series between Japan and America gets under way.

When it is all over Sunday afternoon, either Japan or the United States will still be in the running, the winning team slated to meet the victors in the match between Mexico and Australia in the next round at Forest Hills May 29-31.

Oddly enough, as a result of the pairings yesterday, made by blind drawing, the three-day series here will be climaxed by a singles duel between Don Budge and Jiro Yamagishi, No. 1 ranking players of America and Japan, respectively.

It should, according to local experts, be the deciding issue of the matches.

Play Five Matches

In all, five matches will be played, a majority of three being necessary for victory.

Both Yamagishi and Budge will be seen in action in the singles today, but not against each other.

In the drawings, Budge, the lean red-head from Oakland, was paired with Fumiteru Hakano in the opening match, while Yamagishi was paired with Frank Parker, No. 2 American player.

Tomorrow Budge will team up with Gene Mako, University of Southern California star, to meet Yamagishi and Hideo Nishimura in the doubles event.

City Mushball League Meets

Tentative Opening Date Is May 17; Meet Again Next Thursday

At a meeting of the city mushball league Thursday evening in the Y. M. C. A., plans were nearly completed for the opening of the circuit. The tentative opening date selected is May 17, President Frank Crisci announced today.

Brumbaugh and Calanese were appointed to prepare the schedule. From all indications the league will be a marked success. Representatives of the Box Factory mushball team are asked to get in touch with President Crisci as soon as possible.

The final meeting prior to the opening of the league is scheduled for next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

High Golfers Down In Valley

The New Castle high golfing team headed by Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and Ralph H. Gardner, will play at the Beaver Valley Country club today with the Beaver Falls high golfers. This is a W. P. I. A. L. Section Three match and will be the first of the season for the locals.

Hero And Goat

(International News Service)

The hero—Tony Cuccinello, whose home run in the eleventh inning with one on won for Bees, 6 to 4, over Phillies.

Await Decison In Braddock And Schmeling Mixup

New Jersey Judge Will Give Decision, Who Will Fight Who And Where?

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 30.—In one manner and another while our resistance was low and nobody was noticing, those men are here again—and they don't want the piano. What they apparently want is a good, old fashioned silence.

Anyhow, James J. Braddock is moving his training camp within the next twenty four hours to Grand Beach, Mich., announced as a $3,000,000 resort. That's not an announcement. That's one of Joe Gould's bids for Braddock to meet somebody at Alcoholic, New Mex.

Big Mistake

This, of course, is a mistake, as Braddock already has disagreed to meet Max Schmeling in Berlin for a $350,000 guarantee and will only agree to meet Joe Louis in Chicago, positively for nothing. Mr. Schmeling who is somewhat baffled, being currently in a fair way to meet nobody anywhere, is presently upon the ocean and will guarantee only one thing. He will meet the custom inspectors upon the dock.

This is all very confusing, although within a day or two Judge Guy Fake will announce a decision from a Newark, N. J., federal bench that may really wind up by having everybody majoring in confusion on the campus of dear, old caulifloria. He may or may not announce that Braddock can do nothing except meet Max Schmeling in New York—and not even Max Schmeling is prepared for that.

Parker And Son Will Be Called By Government

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., April 30.—New sensation marked the drama-ridden trial of Ellis H. Parker and his son today when U. S. Attorney John J. Quinn calmly announced both defendants would be called as government witnesses.

The Parkers are on trial in federal court in connection with the kidnaping of Paul H. Wendel, who charges he was kidnaped in New York, taken to Brooklyn and tortured into falsely "confessing" the kidnaping of baby Lindbergh, and later brought to New Jersey.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

We want to make our town look good . . . why can't the citizens help . . . it can't be done by the city government entirely . . . for example . . . there is a wall standing on South Mercer street that needs to be removed . . . in fact it should have been removed years ago . . . someday one of the family that owns that block will be hurt by a falling brick . . . it is for your own protection as well as for the other citizens that the wall should be removed . . . thanking you for your cooperation.

That of course brings back the unbearable mess on the Wilmington Road . . . you would think people would have a little pride . . . you know that old saying . . . people have more fun than anybody . . . I don't believe it.

I'm afraid to say anything about the weather . . . every time it is mentioned in the column it starts to rain . . . it is rather nice out today you know.

This summer we want New Castle to be a city of safety don't we . . . alright let's begin right now . . . don't let one day slip by without your thinking of safety . . . as you walk along the street keep your undercover mind on safety . . . think about this . . . when crossing the street don't get impatient waiting for traffic to pass, just count 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and you'll fnd in many instances you were detained less than one minute in actual time . . . how many of you people are so rushed that a minute makes a change in your life . . . we can't think of anyone.

Trade in New Castle and let safety be your motto.

Here are the names promised you in Wednesday's paper . . . the West Side school teacher . . . they went to Mercer for their marriage application . . . some fun . . . well, here are the names anyhow . . . Miss Edna Shaffer and the other side of the fence: John Riley Jr. . . . it's to be a church wedding . . . Saturday . . . thanks.

Stocks Rebound One To Four Points In Leading Issues Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 30.—Stocks rebounded one to more than four points today, then quieted down after withstanding light realizing.

Steels, coppers and rails were bull leaders, closely followed by utilities, farm implements, mail orders and rubbers.

Motor shares were slightly higher, with the exception of Chrysler which lost close to two points before recovering to just under last night's close.

Bethlehem Steel opened 4¾ points higher on a block of 3,000 shares at 86.

U. S. Steel spurted 2½ points at the start and increased this slightly before meeting profit-taking. New York Central climbed to 47½ for a net gain of two points.

American Smelting and Deere spurted more than three points, while Westinghouse Electric gained better than four. Atchison in rails rose close to four and Southern Pacific about as much.

Bonds firmed with the stock list, with governments also gaining ground. Grains and cotton led commodity markets upward.

The new schedule follows: 6:30, 8, 9:30 and 11 o'clock.

Public To Participate In Mission's Re-Opening

Newly revamped almost from top to bottom, the City Rescue Mission at 19 South Mercer street will on Sunday launch a week of formal "public re-opening services" in which the general public will play an important role.

Just one month ago the Rev. Archie W. Gibson came from Kinzua, Pa., to assume the mission superintendency, and tomorrow he inaugurates his special "get-acquainted" services.

Mr. Gibson Preaches Sunday.

Two services tomorrow, one at 4 and the other at 8 p. m., will be general public services. Mr Gibson will preach at both. Special music will feature the night program.

Upstairs improvements begun a short time ago were nearing completion today. Superintendent Gibson said. Commencing with Sunday, the mission system known throughout the nation as the "Trotter Mission" will be in effect. That plan of mission administration was formulated by Mel Trotter "father of the mission" and now head of the large Grand Rapids Mich. mission. Mr. Trotter helped organize the local institution almost 25 years ago.

Harry Sloan, newly appointed assistant to Mr. Gibson, has been named director of the mission Sunday school. Mrs. Gibson will direct the women's sewing classes.

REV. A. W. GIBSON

Daily, the mission doors, Mr. Gibson said, will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., ready to care at all times for "unfortunate persons".

During the coming week special services will be held nightly. Prominent speakers will be heard.

A service of unusual interest is being planned for Sunday evening at the First Methodist church, Jefferson and North streets, Norris A. White, D.D., pastor. The sermon will be based upon an interpretation of Holman Hunt's famous painting, "The Light of the World" and will illustrate by stereopticon pictures. Following the sermon Mrs. Helen Felch will sing "O Come To My Heart". This service will be especially appealing to those who are using the daily devotional manual, "The Upper Room", the front cover of which, for the present quarter beginning April 1st, carries a copy of the painting.

The other services of the church will be as usual, the pastor preaching in the morning worship on "The Rich Young Ruler."

IN "EXILE"

Edith Rockefeller McCormick died in virtual "exile". The Rockefeller family evidently was horrified over the morass into which she had plunged.

Once a patron of the arts, a woman who had known the best that the world had to offer, Mrs. McCormick died harassed and virtually alone, except for her business associate, Krenn.

And she died hounded. The federal government was seeking taxes, as was the state government. Even now the federal government has a lien of $444,175 on the estate for inheritance taxes. And the state of Illinois comes next with a claim of approximately $354,000 for inheritance taxes.

And the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, with claims of $883,184, including a $526,010 mortgage on the Mrs. McCormick's town house at 1000 Lake Shore boulevard, finally has foreclosed. The executor has until Jan. 1, 1938, to redeem this property, the once magnificent home of the only daughter of the Rockefellers. But no Rockefeller money will redeem it. Rockefellers seldom send good money after bad.

Few women have had such an overwhelming financial tragedy as had the daughter of the "richest man in the world."

you're nothing special. He feels as you do . . . He had aches and headaches and weakness and a high fever. Then his temperature dropped to sub-normal and has been slow to rise again . . . You didn't have any fever, but you dropped to sub-normal and you and he are on the same long tiresome grade . . . It's not unpleasant to compare symptoms in this wise with a fellow who understands.

But at last, after many a weary day, you wake of a morning and the world shines before your eyes. You've made the long grade, you've reached the summit of the hill. You're WELL again. You stretch your arms, throw back your head, flex your muscles, feel FINE. Tomorrow you may have slipped back again. You can't be sure you'll not. But today you're on top of the world and it's the top o' the morning to you. You're out of the black canyon, out of the long shadows, you're back where the sun of life shines warmly upon you and the birds sing joyously instead of dolefully. You've finished with Old Man Flu—and may you never meet him again.

And as you dance on this high ridge of life, you appreciate as never before the great bounty of health.

Many other kinds of laws attempt to fix prices, change the law of supply and demand, or interfere with free and legitimate competition. Thus, according to a summary made by the Institute of Distribution, more than three hundred bills affecting retailers were introduced in state legislatures in the brief period between January 1 and February 17 of this year. Some of these laws advocated trade regulations; others would create sales taxes; others would restrict operations or levy class taxes against chain stores. They represent unnatural interference with the established economic machine and penalize the consumer.

"Medieval" is a good word for legislation of this kind. Its benefits are non-existent—and it is without social or economic justification.

Two lions have been taught by an animal trainer in Berlin to draw a chariot. The man says the idea came from the pages of Plutarch whose veracity has been demonstrated even to the satisfaction of the most skeptical. He relates that Mark Anthony, in his great progresses, had lions harnessed to his chariots and drove about the country with them.

Wallace Bros. Circus Here On Saturday

Tomorrow is circus day and all roads lead to the Mill street show grounds where the big Wallace Brothers Circus will give two performances starring Hoot Gibson and a host of stellar circus attractions. The matinee will begin at 2:00 o'clock the evening performance will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

Vast spreads of canvas, fluttering flags, roaring lions, trumpeting elephants, gaudy mid-way banners, all familiar sights and sounds will again permeate the Mill street show grounds. Today a barren field, tomorrow a place of glamorous excitement, the circus is coming to town.

Flashing direct from the silver screen to the big hippodrome track of the circus, Hoot Gibson, idol of youngsters and oldsters alike will demonstrate the expert skill as roper, marksman, and superb rider which won him the coveted title, world champion cowboy. This title was annexed by the Westerner at the International Rodeo at Pendleton, Oregon, where he entered every event to emerge from the grinding contest with the all around cup.

Hoot Gibson and his wild-riding contingent recruited from the film colony, however form but one of the many outstanding attractions with which Col. George Wallace will invade New Castle tomorrow.

Along about mid-way through the program Capt. Thomas with a shrill blast of his ring-master's whistle gives the signal which ends the horse section. Beautiful mounts prance from the three rings and the audience grows quiet. Then Viola Rooks is announced and as the pretty young lady makes her way to the center ring where she is drawn aloft, high off the ground to a point just under the dome of the Big Top a tenseness sweeps through the audience. Nor is this tenseness relieved as Viola goes through her act ending with the inimitable feat of balancing on her head on a swinging spinning trapeze bar.

Capt. Thomas Burns with his three ring display of performing dancing elephants always receives a round of hearty applause from the most discriminating audiences.

A few of the many other top notch circus attractions under the Wallace banner this year includes, the Rogintosh Troupe of European bare-back riders;; the Volera Brothers, with one of the swiftest high flying acts in the world; the Vernes Family of famous circus gymnasts and acrobats; Col. Lewis and his 40 dancing Arabian horses; the Rogers Sisters, called the sweethearts of the tight wire; Jack and Sills, high perch artists; the Tanarakai Troupe of Japanese wizards; red-headed Pearl Harris, clever aerialist; Capt. George Dalbeanie, noted Australian equilibristic acrobat; Viscount Thomas Shaw, high balancer; and scores of other circus attractions.

Under leadership of Edward Raymond, famous Continental pantomime artist hosts of clever clowns carry on in the three rings and on the hippodrome track.

Sometimes You Can't Believe Your Own Eyes

Many people often marvel at the amazingly fine clothes we are able to make for the low price of $24.50. Some even ask us how we do it. It's a fair question, and here is a frank answer.

We do not buy our clothes. We make them, and we sell them direct to you from our own factory. There is no middleman of any kind between you and us to add a second profit.

We buy our materials direct from the country's largest and finest mills, and every yard must measure up to our high standard or back it goes. We pay cash. We sell for cash ... and the savings are put into the clothes.

We're specialists, too. We specialize in clothes only and at only one price. This means more efficiency as well as greater economy. We've been doing this for 58 years, and we know how.

These are the facts. Is it any wonder we can and do offer you America's finest low-priced clothes?

Robinson Is Opposed To Budget Plan

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 30—A split over economy developed among Democratic leaders Thursday when Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader of the senate, announced his opposition to the proposal to impound 15 per cent of appropriations subject to restoration by the president.

Robinson's criticism was directed at the house resolution which, according to Speaker Bankhead, has the approval of President Roosevelt.

"I believe that the proposal of Senator Byrnes for a 10 per cent reduction in appropriations, exclusive of fixed charges, is a more practicable way of dealing with the situation," said Robinson.

The senate leader also was said to favor a slash in the $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation sought by President Roosevelt if it can be shown that such a cut can be made without causing human suffering.

Lion Tamer's Wife Star Too

Talented Couple Appear With Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus Next Week

MAKE PETS OF WILD ANIMALS

Being married to a lion trainer has its advantages and dis-advantages according to Dolly Jacobs, the pretty wife of Terrell Jacobs, one of the stars of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, coming to New Castle for afternoon and night performances and a huge street parade on Friday, May 7.

Last spring just before the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus opened in Chicago, Terrell, who is known universally as the Lion King decided to make a pet of a young lion cub. Not to be outdone and also to keep harmony in the house, or to be exact the state-room of the Pullman car, the good wife selected a baby leopard, which she added to the house-hold. Up to the present, there have been no casualties and Mrs. Jacobs insists she is going to keep the leopard as long as the husband has his pet lion.

While Dolly Jacobs is by profession a circus performer, as yet she has not taken up animal training. She prefers to let one person in the family tackle this hazardous profession. Mrs. Jacobs appears in the menage numbers being an accomplished equestrienne and also a finished aerial artist. You'll see her high in the Hagenbeck-Wallace tent when this big show arrives.

And she has one policy, she never watches her husband when he is working with his fighting lions in the big cage. But you'll always find him lurking about when she is swinging high over the audience in the big top.

Greta Garbo Once Begged For Role In German Play

Producer Claims He Loaned Great Star $10,500 In Early Days

GRETA DENIES HE LOANED HER MONEY

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—Thirteen years ago, Greta Garbo, one of Hollywood's highest paid stars, went humbly to a German producer to plead for a "bit" role in motion pictures, she admitted in a deposition in a civil suit revealed Thursday.

The producer was David Shratter, who claims that at that time and shortly thereafter he loaned her a total of $10,500.

In the deposition, made last October in a suit over this amount, Miss Garbo admitted Shratter had aided her career but emphatically denied he ever advanced her any money.

The suit here is being brought by H. Fitzpatrick, an assignee of the claim.

The deposition is in the possession of James J. McCarthy, attorney for the plaintiff, who said it was taken in Miss Garbo's dressing room at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio.

It will be used when the case comes to trial May 7.

Miss Garbo, according to the document, said she met Shratter in Stockholm, Sweden, in 1924. She said she was introduced to him by Maurice Stiller, famous film director who was sponsoring her career.

She and Stiller begged Shratter to give her a small part in a picture he was going to produce, she said.

Although the attorney claims Shratter advanced her 5,000 kronen as well as signing her to the part, Miss Garbo denied he gave her the money.

The picture was never finished, although Miss Garbo journeyed to Constantinople with the company, according to the deposition.

Attorney McCarthy explained that the picture was unfinished because of trouble over taxes with the German government.

After she left Constantinople, Miss Garbo and Stiller again met Shratter in Berlin, the deposition says.

The actress said she and Stiller often had dinner with Shratter and Mrs. Shratter.

According to the complaint, Shratter loaned her 23,000 German marks during this time, but in the deposition Miss Garbo denies this.

It was at that time that Miss Garbo realizing her life's ambition and was gaining fame as a motion picture actress, playing in Swedish and German films.

Shortly after that, in 1925, she came to America where she rapidly became a world renowned star.

A week ago Miss Garbo was served with a subpoena to appear in the suit here May 7 after an unnamed process server approached her limousine when it stopped at a traffic light.

The server threw the paper onto her lap.

POULTRY SHIPPING MAY BE AFFECTED

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Pennsylvania shippers of live poultry to New York City markets were cautioned today by J. Hansell French, Secretary of Agriculture, against possible labor troubles at unloading points on and after May 1.

Shippers contemplating deliveries in the New York area should consult the Bureau of Markets, Harrisburg, before loading. The bureau is keeping in close touch with the situation so that Pennsylvania poultrymen may be protected.

TOTS SEE COCKFIGHT

Cockfighting is being made bigger and better in France with the hope of attracting followers of the sport from other countries. Every age is becoming interested in the matches. At a Calais cockfight recently women and children comprised a large percentage of the spectators. Large sums of money changed hands in betting, women putting their money on their favorites as well as the men. M. Buponchel, vice president of the Federation of Cockfighting of the Nord and Pas Calais Department, says that cocks will be imported from Belgium to breed fiercer fighters.

Johnstown Wants Immediate Action On Flood Control

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—Cambria county officials, demanding immediate flood control, informed Col. W. E. R. Covell, chief of the U. S. army engineers, the county stood ready to bear its share of the cost.

"Our plan," said Sheriff M. J. Boyle, "is for the county to issue $1,000,000 bonds and the city of Johnstown $500,000. As 45 per cent of the property valuation in Cambria county is in Johnstown, we look upon the problem as affecting the county as a whole."

Councilman W. A. Magee of Pittsburgh, invited to sit in at the conference, heralded the offer as the first step in the right direction.

"This is the only way to go about widespread improvement of the Monongahela and Allegheny watersheds with a view to checking floods," he said.

Lots of Competition

"Because of competition all over the United States for flood control, together with competition upon the federal credit for numerous other social and economic objectives, those communities that show willingness to help themselves will be the first to obtain federal aid," he continued.

"Johnstown lost $30,000,000 in last year's flood," said Cambria County Controller Henry L. Cannon. "Last Monday the water is estimated to have caused $500,000 damage. There has been loss of life. Our people are demanding action."

Farm Labor Is Exempt From Accident Law

Employers Not Forced To Provide Compensation Insurance

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Agricultural workers in Pennsylvania, 13 other states and the District of Columbia are specifically excluded from the benefits of workmen's compensation laws, declares J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture. The other 13 states are Alabama, Delaware, Florida, Iowa, Maryland, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The laws of New Hampshire, Washington and Wyoming exclude farm workers from benefits of their workmen's compensation laws by failing to list them among the workers covered.

Some states require workers engaged in certain extra-hazardous farm tasks to be insured under their workmen's compensation acts. In Arizona, farm labor using machinery must be insured. In Ohio such insurance is compulsory as to all employments excepting those having less than three employees. In South Dakota and Kentucky, such insurance is compulsory as to threshing grain, also in Kentucky for hulling grains and seeds.

Workmen's compensation insurance for agricultural workers is elective in California, Michigan and New Jersey.

THREE ARE SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Mayor Charles E. McGrath yesterday sentenced Ed. Payne, colored, Henry Ruha and Frank Cicone, to the Allegheny county workhouse. Each was sentenced to serve three months. They were sent away following repeated appearances before the mayor. The charge against the trio was vagrancy. Sometime ago the mayor sent several police court frequenters to the workhouse.

Parties Confront New Registration Problem

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., April 30.—The passing of the new registration bill at Harrisburg making compulsory personal registration in the town and townships of Mercer county will obligate the organization in both old parties of workers to get out the vote and get it registered.

Registrar Frank McConnon for the commissioners states there will be three dates on which voters may register. One date in June, July and August will be selected by the commissioners at a later date. The field registration work will be finished prior to August 14, states McConnon, which will give his office 30 days in which to make ready for the primary of September 21.

The year is what is termed by the politicians as an "off year' in politics. There are no state officials to be balloted on and the county ticket calls for the election of jury commissioner only in each party now that the poor directors are dispensed with. Regardless of this fact the leaders in both parties are anticipating a heavy registration due to the local elections in every precinct. These local decisions, it is pointed out, bring out a larger group of voters than even the presidential contests due to the strain in human nature that voices either approval or its con.rary, hate, where your neighbor is concerned.

Getting the vote in the rural districts registered during the harvest season will mean an effort on the part of the Republicans who have the majority in these districts.

Surrenders Self On Federal Charge

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 30.—Federal agents today left for Detroit with Manning R. Kauffman, 38, alias Robert Kimball, sought there since 1935 on charges of using the mails to defraud and of violating the federal securities and exchange.

Kauffman walked into a newspaper office here,, told the editor that under the name of Kimball he was wanted in Detroit and asked the editor to call a postal inspector to arrest him. He said he gave himself up to "square his conscience and to start all over."

Kauffman, who has been working here as an automobile salesman, said he formerly lived in Chicago and has a wife and two children there.
